A ring-top can opener, used on soft-drink and beer containers, is about to ring up a nickel's worth of parking on this meter. Several areas in Saratoga County, N.Y., have reported that the rings are being used as slugs in meters. Lincoln police report they have not been plagued with the problem yet. Police officials noted it was against the law to put slugs in parking meters. A check of local meters indicated the rings work in them.

Airline Tieup Talks To Resume Today

Washington (UPI) — The Labor Department announced Wednesday night the resumption of talks in the 20-day airlines strike while a Senate committee mulls proposed emergency legislation to halt the walkout.

A spokesman said Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz had called negotiations for the five strikebound airlines and the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists to resume negotiations Thursday morning.

That is the time the Senate Labor Committee will begin deliberations leading to a vote on whether to halt the strike with a special law or give Wirtz the one last chance he asked to settle the dispute "in the woodshed" of collective bargaining.

The calling of talks after two days in which no bargaining took place was in line with the suggestion of some senators on the committee for negotiations to resume regardless of congressional action.

Walt Wanted
Wirtz urged the Senate committee to stay its hand at least a few days to give him one last chance at settling the strike in "the woodshed."

And he added that woodshed should not be the White House.

At a crowded Senate hearing on the impact of the walkout, Wirtz rejected both legislation and personal intervention by President Johnson as courses out of the airline deadlock. He said Johnson agrees with his recommendations.

Bargaining Chance
"I urge that free collective bargaining be given a last clear chance to work," Wirtz said.

Wirtz said there is no emergency yet in the shutdown of five major airlines — United, Eastern, National, Northwest and Trans World — by a strike of members of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists.

"We are confronted with a serious, substantial adverse impact on the national interest," Wirtz said.

Hours before the Senate hearing, the White House announced that Johnson will create an emergency board to postpone for 60 days a threatened walkout at American Airlines.

Averted Awhile
Without that action, the Transport Workers Union could have gone on strike Thursday.

The emergency board procedure already has been completed, without producing a settlement, in the Machinists strike.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., who headed an emergency board in the Machinists deadlock and proposed the strike-ending bill, sat in near silence at the hearing.

BROOKLYN RIOT . . .

Youth Arrested In Sniper Killing

New York (UPI) — A teen-ager was arrested Wednesday in the sniper slaying of an 11-year-old Negro during last week's racial rioting in Brooklyn. The fatal shot was said to have been intended for a policeman.

Ernest Gallashaw, 17, a slim, neat-appearing youngster, was held without bail on a homicide charge in the violent death of Eric Dean during the July 21 disorders in the East New York tenement slum area. Both boys were Negro.

Brooklyn Criminal Court Judge Benjamin H. Schorr noted that an auto theft charge against Gallashaw had been dismissed last year and added: "You've led a charmed life until now."

House Painter
The district attorney's office said Gallashaw was employed as a house painter by the New York state program for youth. It was described as part of the anti-poverty program, but city and state officials were unable immediately to pinpoint it among many such agencies.

A spokesman for the state labor department said the program probably was a facet of the Neighborhood Youth Corps, an on-the-job training program supported by state and federal funds.

To Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., Wirtz said, "I believe that there will be less labor disturbance in this country the smaller the number of cases which go to the White House."

Dean was shot to death in a clash between Negro and Italian youths in East New York. A bullet caught him in the chest and his slaying brought additional Negroes into the streets and fanned the rioting.

Koota's office has been looking into charges by East New York community leaders that outside agitators played a part in fomenting the rioting. A grand jury is expected to investigate the matter further.

The Dean boy, when shot, was en route to try to catch a glimpse of Mayor John V. Lindsay, who had been in the neighborhood earlier for a conference with community leaders.

It was not until Saturday, after a week of disorders, that Lindsay was able to bring peace to the East New York section by calling leaders of the various factions together at a truce conference at city hall.

Young Dean was buried Tuesday after Lindsay visited the funeral home to offer condolences to the boy's family. The city contributed about half of the funeral expenses.

Congratulations

Gallashaw was arrested near his home. Police did not say how they happened upon him as a suspect. However, Police Commissioner Howard R. Leary, in a Teletype message, congratulated officers on the case "for their outstanding work."

Brooklyn Dist. Atty. Aaron Koota said the bullet that killed Dean apparently had been fired at policemen engaged in putting down the East New York riot.

Police headquarters said it was a .25-caliber slug, which would eliminate any possibility of it having come from a police weapon, heavier in caliber.

Dean's office has been looking into charges by East New York community leaders that outside agitators played a part in fomenting the rioting. A grand jury is expected to investigate the matter further.

Probers Hear 'Black Panther'

. . . ON CLEVELAND RIOTS

Cleveland (UPI) — A 17-year-old youth told a grand jury that a 200-member gang known as the "Black Panthers" planned much of the systematic firebombing, sniping and looting in Cleveland's slum riot, it was reported Wednesday.

The Cleveland Press said the secret witness was a Negro who admitted he was a member of the gang.

Wednesday that on the first night of the rioting, she saw a young man in his 20s leading a group of 15 to 20 other youths clad in red robes.

She said she saw him again Tuesday night but witnessed no acts of violence.

She identified a picture of the leader. He was said to have a police record. She and the jury were shown a red robe police had seized and she identified it.

Police have been investigating a possible link between the firebombings and Negroes dressed in red robes.

'Plot By Experts'

Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, charged Wednesday that the rioting and looting in Cleveland and other major cities during the past few weeks "are part of a national conspiracy executed by experts."

"Let us put a stop to the current campaign of the worst lawlessness in the history of America," Lausche said in a Grocers' Alliance in Chicago.

He said the rioting in Cleveland especially "indicated design and organization."

Cleveland Mayor Ralph Locher announced he had appointed Bertram Gardner, the city's community relations director, to conduct a study into the causes of the rioting and possible solutions of problems of Negro residents. Gardner, a Negro, said he would begin the study after the grand jury completes its hearings.

Second Round

The rioting last week was the second on the East Side in two months. Councilman Edward Katalinas said after his appearance before the grand jury that the June disturbances along Superior Avenue were rehearsals for the August violence. He said both came at a time when major National Guard units were away at camp.

Also called before the grand jury was Lewis Robinson, head of the Jomo Kenyatta Freedom House, a youth center closed by police for building code violations. The center allegedly served as a fire-bomb school.

"I am glad to be subpoenaed to tell the other side," said Robinson.

The executive vice president of the Insurance Board of Cleveland, Joseph C. Boggs, said property insurance rates in all of Cleveland probably would be increased as a result of the riot damage on the East Side. He said insurance companies expected riot damage claims to exceed $1 million.

Man mauled by lion may lose an arm

Omaha (UPI) — Charles Stevenson, 63-year-old Richland farmer, may lose an arm as the result of a mauling from a 600-pound lion.

Stevenson was brought to an Omaha hospital Wednesday following the mauling Tuesday night at Richland.

The lion belongs to Rolland Stevenson, 31, a son who had been showing the animal at carnivals. Rolland got the lion when it was a cub.

Three weeks ago at Alliance Rolland was clawed by the animal and is still recuperating from arm injuries.

When a light rain started falling Tuesday evening, the elder Stevenson went to help Rolland's wife cover the lion's cage. Then the animal reached out and clawed Stevenson's arm.

Mrs. Stevenson beat the animal with a board to make it release her father-in-law.

"My investigation has affirmed my belief that this is the correct action to take," Callan said.

Callan is a former chairman of the Nebraska Power Review Board.

Merit

The congressman said there is "considerable merit" in a state legislative resolution calling for construction of a new 345-kilovolt transmission line from Fort Thompson, S.D., to Nebraska's load center near Grand Island.

The resolution was unanimously adopted by members of the Legislative Council's power study committee at a special meeting in Lincoln last week.

The resolution seeks appropriations from the current session of Congress to permit the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation to construct the facility.

"My investigation has affirmed my belief that this is the correct action to take," Callan said.

Difficult

But, he noted, "getting appropriations for this project at this late date will be difficult in the current session of Congress."

Should Realize

The blackouts should make us realize that Nebraska needs to strengthen and consolidate its power systems," Callan declared.

A single additional 220-kilovolt transmission line from Fort Randall would have been permitted by the Bureau of Reclamation to supply all of the Nebraska deficiencies during the second blackout, Callan noted.

The Bureau was able to supply to Nebraska more than one-third of the generation lost at Consumers Public Power District's Sheldon steam plant during the second blackout July 11, the congressman said.

To do so, the Bureau with-drew power which normally flows eastward, Callan said.

Chamber To Study Nebraskaland Days Plan

By BOB SCHREPP
Star Staff Writer

Directors of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce Wednesday agreed to investigate the possibility of keeping Nebraskaland Days celebrations here on a permanent basis.

Lincoln would be bidding against 24 other towns and cities across the state to continue hosting the two-year-old event. The State Game Commission, official coordinator of Nebraskaland Days, said he would push the total community investment to $1½ million, it was reported by Sept. 15.

The Chamber board voted to appoint a special committee to investigate the city's interest in continuing sponsorship. The committee will report its findings at the August board meeting.

The community that is awarded the event will be expected to provide a rodeo grandstand seating 5,000 and a large camping area by next Game commission official.

Fried Chicken . . . 79¢

Dick Schaffer told directors that the celebration has the potential to draw four million new dollars into the city's economy during a four-day period.

The figure is based on the successful Cheyenne, Wyo., Frontier Days, Schaffer said.

A preliminary estimate shows construction costs of $750,000 for the type of facilities needed, according to Gene Tice, chamber staff member. Land acquisition could push the total community investment to $1½ million, it was reported by Sept. 15.

Indications were that methods of financing the event will occupy most of the Chamber committee's attention.

The community that is awarded the event will be expected to provide a rodeo grandstand seating 5,000 and a large camping area by next Game commission official.

Ky: Be Patient Or Invade North

Saigon (AP)—While U.S. jets hammered again at North Viet Nam, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky suggested Wednesday patience to carry on a long war is the only alternative to an invasion above the 17th Parallel.

"We have the patience, but can we say the same thing of our allies?" Ky asked. "... Are they ready to help us for five to 10 years? ... If not we must destroy the communists in their lair."

Evidently referring to Washington critics, the premier said he was saddened by the reaction to his previous proposals for an invasion as against the reception of statements by Ho Chi Minh, who has sent thousands of North Vietnamese regulars into South Viet Nam, that the north is prepared to fight for 20 years.

Saddened

"People go and plead with him and ask him to stop," Ky said. "But when I say we should invade the north, people call me names and say I am bloodthirsty. This is an injustice done by free men to free men and it makes me sad."

There was a communist complaint too. A dispatch broadcast from Hanoi announced North Viet Nam's high command protested to the three-nation International Control Commission against Ky's invasion talk as laying bare "the U.S. imperialists' scheme to intensify and expand the aggressive war in Viet Nam."

The premier addressed a news conference amid these developments in a war in which the United States has pursued limited objectives as South Viet Nam's major ally for more than four years:

—U.S. air squadrons flew through foul weather and heavy flak to blast at North Vietnamese supply lines. Two planes—a single-seat F105 Thunderchief fighter-bomber and an RF4C photo reconnaissance Phantom carrying two men—were shot down near Dong-Hoi, 40 miles north of the border. Helicopters rescued all three fliers.

Pair Of Missiles

—A spokesman announced three oil depots, a missile site, barges, bridges, trucks and rail lines were among targets of 68 missions, Tuesday. Pilots said they saw two missiles in flight that day.

—The ambush slaying of another official of the U.S. Agency for International Development (AID), the eighth PREMIER KY . . . at news conference.

Flurry Reflects Difference In Words

Saigon (AP)—The flurry between Saigon and Washington Wednesday about the future of the war reflected a mild difference of wording that showed up in the Declaration of Honolulu last Feb. 8.

In this declaration Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's regime said the defeat of communist aggression "is vital for our people." President Johnson's delegation said the American aim is "to prevent aggression."

"As long as the international communists have such aggressive designs," he said, "it will be difficult to have peace as long as the territory above the 17th Parallel can be used as a staging area."

The news conference of the 35-year-old premier and air force chief drew questions about his statements in U.S. News & World Report last week that "it is better to face (the Red Chinese) right now than in five or 10 years" and suggesting an invasion of North Viet Nam was necessary for victory.

Dissolution Urged

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Senate Democratic majority leader, called on the Johnson administration to disassociate itself "completely and at once" from Ky's magazine remark about an invasion.

A State Department spokesman followed that up:

"Our position of not seeking any wider war has been repeatedly made clear and remains our position."

After Ky took up the subject again Wednesday, there was a reaction from the White House. Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers said, "The President's views on not wanting a wider war are pretty well known."

With China's Help

The premier outlined his views after he was asked how victory could be achieved. He said that with the assistance of the Chinese Communists, North Viet Nam has committed aggression against South Viet Nam and continues to carry out an aggressive policy.

"As long as the international communists have such aggressive designs," he said, "it will be difficult to have peace as long as the territory above the 17th Parallel can be used as a staging area."

The war will continue either as a battle of divisions and regiments or as guerrilla warfare or as sabotage and terrorism.

"But war will continue.

"I would say there is actually no desire to invade North Viet Nam because the struggle which we have been carrying on is rather a self-defense, a struggle for self-defense.

"However, bandits must be punished.

Decisive Measures

"If North Viet Nam will not end its aggression then decisive measures must be taken . . . Their sanctuary must be destroyed."

The premier added that if his nation became strong and was a democratic and economically sound example, "the people of North Viet Nam will turn their faces to the south and will overthrow the communist regime."

"This second concept requires patience and time," he said. "The problem is whether we have the patience."

A close friend who attended college with the two said the Navy had advised Martin before the Pentagon announcement but cautioned him about saying anything.

Reported In U.S.

The San Mateo Times in California said it had learned from a reliable source that Dengler had been flown from Viet Nam to the air evacuation ward at Travis Air Force Base, 50 miles north of San Francisco. There was no immediate comment from the Pentagon.

Optimistic General

Dengler served in the U.S. Air Force from June 1957 to April 1963, the Pentagon said, and he was then appointed a naval aviation cadet. He was commissioned in 1964 and promoted to lieutenant last September.

He reported to Viet Nam for duty in 1964 and holds the Distinguished Flying Cross and Air Medal.

Fiery Johnson, Cool Holt Will Run Off

Little Rock, Ark. (AP)—Jim Johnson, a fiery segregationist, and Frank Holt, a cool career politician, set their sights Wednesday on an Aug. 9 runoff battle for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

The GOP vote, virtually complete, was: Rockefeller 16,781, McMillan 1,014.

Republican Party leaders had predicted a small turnout for their election.

Rockefeller charged that McMillan, a 1954 gubernatorial candidate on the Democratic ticket, was put in the race by Democrats to torment the rising GOP.

Johnson, 41, is a slender bundle of nervous energy whose campaign technique is to attack with a furious barrage of rhetoric. He called Holt a "pleasant vegetable" during the campaign and asked voters to help him "drive the money changers from the temple of state government."

Holt, 55, is a placid, distinguished looking man who criticized no one and responded to no criticism during the preferential primary campaign.

Sen. John L. McClellan and 2nd District Rep. Wilbur Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, won renomination easily.

Missing Mail Truck Found In Iowa

No Trace Of Driver; Some Bags Opened

Sioux City, Iowa (AP)—A star route mail truck reported missing in Northeastern Nebraska was found here Wednesday with the mail bags it contained torn open, a Post Office spokesman said.

Its driver remained missing.

The truck and its contents were taken to the post office here to await arrival of a postal inspector from Omaha.

The Post Office spokesman said the truck left Norfolk, Neb., early Wednesday on a run to Sioux City but failed to arrive on schedule in Wayne, Neb., after leaving mail at Carroll 12 miles away.

The spokesman said the truck was owned by the star route contractor, Jacobsma Transport Co. of Sioux City, and was driven by Emer Angelo.

He said Angelo, formerly of Minneapolis but recently living in a Sioux City hotel, had been on the job about a week and a half.

Crash Claims Second Victim

Columbus (AP) — A two-car collision on Highway 30 west of Richland Sunday has claimed a second life.

Fifty-year-old Norman Muller of Wakefield, driver of one of the cars, died Wednesday in a Columbus hospital of injuries suffered in the mishap.

The other victim, 45-year-old Mrs. Arlyne H. Mohrman of rural Columbus, died Sunday.

Muller's death raised the 1966 Nebraska traffic toll to 231, compared to 188 on this date one year ago.

Local Protests Delay McCook Dump Decision

The city of McCook is withdrawing its application for state approval of a proposed municipal garbage dump site west of the city because of local protests, state sanitation Engineer T. A. Filipi said Wednesday.

Filipi said McCook City Manager George Pyle informed him the City Council decided to examine other site possibilities before making a final decision.

Filipi said he was told the city may have to re-apply for approval of the western site if another suitable location cannot be found.

The City Council and Red Willow County Board of Commissioners had approved the 215-acre site one-half mile west of the city, and Filipi said he was ready to approve it as meeting public health requirements.

A number of persons who reside or maintain businesses west of McCook complained that the proposed dump operation would lower property values in the area.

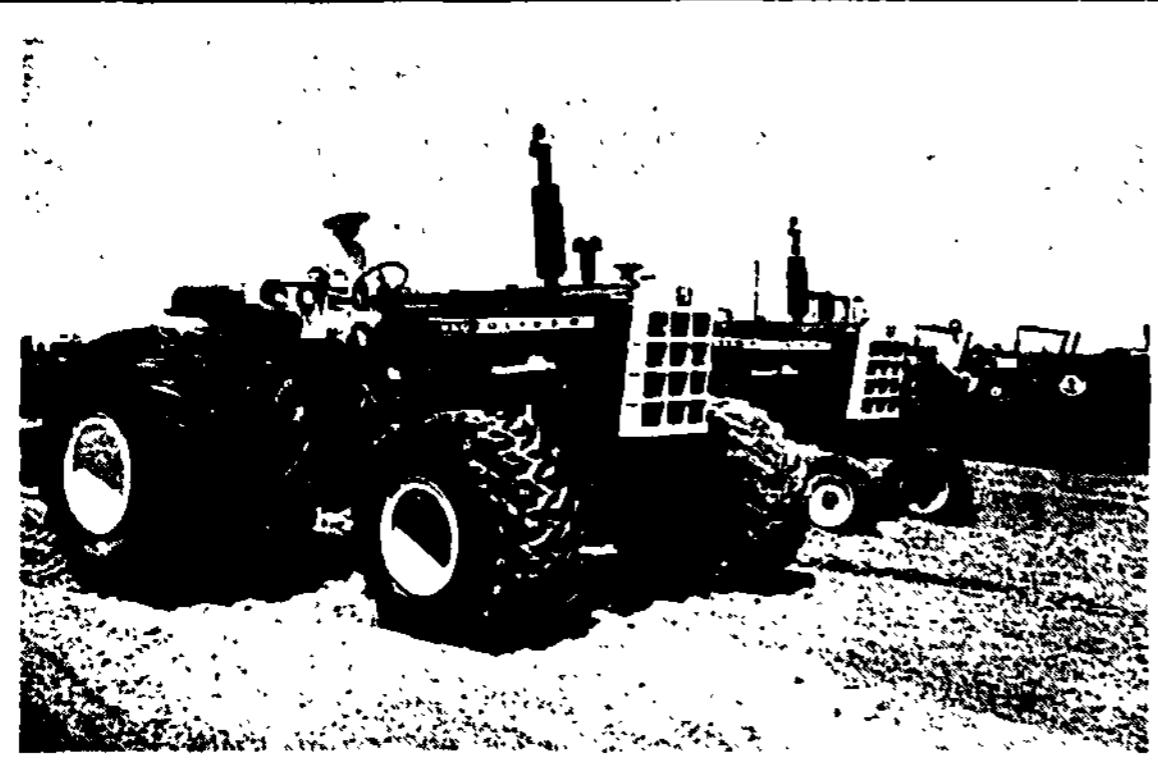

The Federal Aviation Agency ordered the city to discontinue use of the present municipal dump located at the City Airport because it presents a hazard to pilots.

Bachelor Gives $110,000 In Land For Hospital Use

Scottsbluff (AP) — An 80-year-old bachelor has given land valued at about $110,000 to the West Nebraska General Hospital building development program.

The Scottsbluff hospital plans to use proceeds from sale of the land for a fifth floor on the hospital now under construction.

The land was given by Emil Kopac, who lives near Oshkosh. The property consists of about 630 acres southwest of Oshkosh and 160 acres in Jones County, S.D.

The function of flotation in increasing tractor pull with giant tires will be demonstrated Thursday at Tractor Power and Safety Day.

Tractor Day May Attract 20,000

By GLENN KREUSCHER Farm Editor

Mead—Near 20,000 visitors are expected here Thursday to attend the 15th annual Tractor Power and Safety Day at the 8,000 acre University of Nebraska field laboratory of Nebraska.

The annual parade of tractors will cover nearly 50 years of power on the farm as steam, gasoline and diesel models when from 10 to more than 100 horsepower are demonstrated.

While new models and methods of farming will feature many demonstrations, the morning program will be kicked off with two remote controlled tractors that will duplicate accidents that have claimed the lives of 19 Nebraska farmers thus far this year.

The remote controlled tractor travelling 10 miles per hour with dummy drivers will run a rear wheel off the roadway. The front wheel also will be allowed to run off the roadway and when the tractor is pulled back onto the road those attending Tractor Power and Safety Day will see how quick an accident can take place.

1st Public Demonstration This is the first public demonstration of a safety test devised by tractor manufacturers that will so extensively illustrate to farmers methods to prevent road accidents with tractors, according to University of Nebraska officials.

The Nebraska tractor test dynamometer car will be utilized in one demonstration to decide the winner between two tractors, one a diesel and its counterpart a gasoline model.

Narrow row planting, a practice fast gaining with farmers, will receive special attention with major manufacturers displaying their narrow row planters, cultivators, and combines.

Included in a wide array of demonstrations will be the operation of an irrigation pump by radio; automatic control of gravity irrigation; the ins and outs of metering with augers; dialing rations with vibrators; keeping track of feed totals; instantaneous weighing of feed; and liquid manure distribution.

Curtis said that the agency informed him in a letter May 5 that the city's request for aid is undergoing review. Two and one-half months later, Curtis continued, the request is still under review.

The senator said a member of his staff was informed by telephones on June 16 that a budgetary problem was involved in the request and there were not enough funds left in the fiscal 1966 budget for the project.

Curtis declared: "There is no reduction in 1966 funds which would have prevented approval of this project before July 1."

He said further delay in the approval of funds would result in Sidney's losing Frontier Airline service because of the larger aircraft's inability to land on the field this winter when the airline plans a changeover to larger planes.

One of the popular exhibits that has grown each of the past three years is conducted by the Nebraska Safety Patrol. Farmers and ranchers are invited to view films and demonstrations provided by the patrol that involve safety for highway travel and agriculture.

Dr. R. W. Kleis, chairman of agricultural engineering, will preside for the day long event.

Burlington, Two Other Lines Ask Reconsideration

Washington (AP)—Three big railroads asked the Interstate Commerce Commission Wednesday to reconsider its hairline rejection of their bid to merge into the nation's longest rail system—a 24,000-mile network.

The Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Burlington Railroads said they are now willing to agree to all conditions necessary to protect the Milwaukee Road and the Chicago & North Western Railway if the merger is approved.

The combination would stretch from Chicago to the Pacific Northwest.

The commission announced its 6-5 rejection on the merger proposal last April.

Crop-Dusting Plane Crash Injures Pilot

Shelton (AP)—A pilot from Homestead, Fla., was hospitalized Wednesday following the crash of his single-engine crop-dusting plane.

Ed Boon Von Ochse was hospitalized in Kearney. He told rescuers he had pains in the back but the extent of injuries was not determined.

The plane crashed in a corn field about 3½ miles south of Shelton on the Gus Lambert farm. Volunteer firemen from Shelton took the pilot to the hospital and extinguished a small fire in the field.

Don Walker, 18, who lives near the scene of the crash, said "the plane appeared to be going too slowly as it turned and the nose dropped straight to the ground."

Duane Mattson Rites Thursday; Kearney Native

Kearney — Funeral services for Duane H. Mattson, 43, of San Diego, Calif., will be Thursday in San Diego. He was a native of Kearney.

Mr. Mattson attended the University of Nebraska where he was active in Kosmet Klub and was graduated from Kearney State College. A World War II veteran, he served in the Navy in the South Pacific.

Later he taught in Bloomfield and various schools in Iowa. He moved to San Diego two years ago after residing in Kirkland, Wash., where he taught in the Kirkland schools.

Surviving are his wife, Betty; daughter, Molly; son, Monte, all of San Diego; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Mattson and sister Mrs. Paul Freygang, all of Kearney.

6 A.M. Sunday Opening OK'd For Douglas Taverns

Omaha (AP) — The Douglas County Board ruled that taverns in rural Douglas County may open at 6 a.m. Sundays if they choose to.

Previously taverns had been using the same closing hours of the city or village nearest them. Different hours had been observed since Omaha had 12 noon openings and Elkhorn, Valley and Waterloo had 6 a.m. openings.

Swine Displays New ideas and equipment for modern swine production will feature displays of equipment and building features utilized by swine producers.

The weather will determine to what extent skid tow-irrigation lines can be demonstrated. Heavy rains during the past two days might make it impossible for all irrigation demonstrations to be held, but University of Nebraska officials were making alternative plans Wednesday to exhibit the different methods of irrigation.

One of the popular exhibits that has grown each of the past three years is conducted by the Nebraska Safety Patrol. Farmers and ranchers are invited to view films and demonstrations provided by the patrol that involve safety for highway travel and agriculture.

Fair, Tough And Honest

By ROBERT
(Note: William O. Dobler, The Star's editor, is on vacation. Today's column is by Robert J. Sirling, aviation editor for United Press International.)

WASHINGTON — When Charles Springs Murphy was named chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) 12 months ago, the announcement had all the dramatic impact of a marshmallow dropping on a mattress. The CAB is the regulatory agency overseeing the nation's most dynamic industry. It rules airlines on fares, routes and even cabin service. It is one of the smallest federal agencies but also one of the most powerful.

To the job of chairman, Murphy brought a long record of able public service as a congressional legislative expert, an adviser to President Harry S. Truman and four years as undersecretary of agriculture. His performance in the latter post was regarded as an exceptional example of administrative ability, but it hardly seemed to qualify him as the man whose agency regulates the lively, occasionally quarrelsome and controversial airline industry. For that matter, the CAB itself has been known to be lively, occasionally quarrelsome and controversial. A Washington gag a few years ago told of a CAB official undergoing surgery. He received a telegram from the five-man board which read: "Best wishes for a speedy recovery. The vote was 3-2."

Both the airlines and the CAB greeted Murphy's appointment with surprise and uncertainty. His aeronautical experience had been limited to helping write the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 — a time when the DC-3 was carrying 90 percent of the nation's air traffic. President Johnson's selection was subjected to considerable private criticism and some rather lukewarm public support for a virtual unknown labelled generally as "just a nice guy."

Recently, one top airline official gave this reaction to Murphy's first year in office: "Frankly, I thought he was just a political hack. Now I regard him as one of the ablest chairmen in CAB history. He's fair, he's tough and he's honest in his desire to promote aviation and protect the public interest simultaneously—which isn't the easiest job in the world."

And the CAB itself, from Murphy's four colleagues on the board to the many staff members, regards the chairman with respect, ranging from awe to affection.

"He has," commented one CAB official, "more insight into problems we deal with than anyone had a right to expect. He has freshness of approach and a grasp

The Character Of A School

The U.S. Senate government operations subcommittee is beginning an inquiry into what some have charged is an unfair distribution of scientific research grants among the nation's universities.

Massachusetts, California, Illinois and to a lesser degree some Big Ten schools have been getting the lion's share of the grants. At the bottom of the list are Southern schools and next to bottom are the Midwest land grant colleges, such as is Nebraska.

Senator Carl Curtis has offered a resolution for more equitable distribution. The National Science Foundation director, Leeland, Haworth, was out of sympathy. He said, "Among the questions the government should ask about each state is whether it pays competitive salaries or whether it prides itself on low taxes and low expenditures for higher education."

There is a little wrong in both positions. A school not equipped to provide the research service is in no position to expect

It Rained

Right while news stories were telling of crop deterioration and prospects for good late summer yields were beginning to fade—it rained.

It rained generally all over eastern Nebraska and lucky were the areas that got enough. It could well be the most valuable rain of the year.

Total rainfall in eastern Nebraska is never inadequate for bumper crops. The question is, when does it fall? If there are not good general showers late in July the news will be bad. The news for 1966 now is not bad. A further break in the heat and some more timely rains and another good crop year will be in store.

But there is a further reminder. Ninety years ago when Nebraskans were probing

What Can We Believe In?

In this present age of huge novelties and unorthodox thinking the old dependable institutions are being swept away. The horse that for years was man's best and most dependable means of rapid transit is scarcely seen any more. Even cowboys now use jeeps and airplanes. The locomotive firemen used to be the

Some Elderly People Enjoy Inactivity

By ROBERT PETERSON
Many older people complain of inactivity and loneliness. But others like to do as little as possible and remain in solitude and contemplation.

Here's a letter from a woman who says, "My husband and I are astonished at the foolishness we read on the subject of aging. Social workers and government experts seem to consider us as some strange, inept breed of animal for whom special programs must be planned."

"I am 65 and would no more join a golden age club than I would fly to the moon. My husband gets a police pension of $3,000 a year and we're completely content — without the aid of arts, crafts, clubs or senior citizen bus tours."

"There are so many organizations in our community for old folks that we could be busy each minute if we wanted to. But we prefer the quiet life — seeing whom we want and doing what we want."

"Our life began at 60 when we moved out of the big city to a nice little house at Ocean Grove, N.J., that we bought free and clear. We have a porch to sit on, an ocean to look at and a boardwalk to stroll on. These are hobbies enough."

"People think shut-ins are unhappy. But I've got a half-sister living in the next town who's a widow of 77. She chooses to stay home and hasn't been out in three years. She says she absolutely loves her life the way it is — taking care of herself, keeping her home neat, watching TV and seeing only members of her family."

This woman's letter is a reminder that we're all different. Before assuming that all elders are vaguely unhappy, distressed at inactivity and lonely for want of new contacts, let's note that some are totally independent and self-reliant, and want nothing more than to be left alone.

Quite a few men and women past 40 have submerged desires to write. They feel they have real potential as poets, short story writers or novelists. But they figure they're too old to start.

Maybe so, but it could be they're just using age as an excuse. Take Katherine Anne Porter, 76. This Pulitzer-Prize winning authoress wrote nearly all her short stories after 40. And she didn't get around to writing her one and only novel, "Ship of Fools," until well past that milestone. What's more she did not see this great novel published until four years ago when she was 72 years of age!

I always get a chuckle recalling the story of an elderly spinster who went to a marriage counselor and complained of the trouble she'd had trying to find a husband. The counselor told her not to complain, and explained that under God's system there was a man somewhere for every woman.

"I'm not knocking the system," she snapped. "I just want to get in on it."

Egg-Type Chicken Production Up; Calf Crop May Decline

Nebraska is producing 16% more egg-type chickens this year than last year, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics estimated Wednesday.

The division estimated Nebraska farmers will raise 6,538,000 chickens of the egg-type this year, compared with 5,636,000 raised last year when the all-time low was set. This year's estimate falls

76 Candidates For Degrees At Peru

Peru (UPI) — Seventy-six degree candidates will be honored at the summer commencement at Peru State College, Friday, August 12, at 6 p.m. in the college auditorium, according to Dr. Neal S. Gomon, president of the College.

Included in the list are candidates for 65 bachelor of science in education degrees, three bachelor of science degrees, five bachelor of arts in education degrees, and three bachelor of arts degrees. Presiding at the commencement exercises will be Dr. Gomon, 19% short of the 1960-61 average of 8,105,000, and 61% under the 16,585,000 chickens raised 10 years ago.

Prices received for eggs in Nebraska the first six months of this year have been as much as 12 cents per dozen higher than last year, but feed costs also have increased.

In another report, the division said this year's Nebraska calf crop is expected to total 1,935,000, down one percent from last year's 1,954,000.

But the current estimate puts the five-year (1960-64) average of 1,777,000 calves by 9% and would be the third largest calf crop on record.

Last year's calf crop was the largest on record.

The number of cows and heifers two years old and older which were on hand as of Jan. 1 was up one percent from last year, but the calving percentage was down.

Weather conditions were not favorable for much of the calving season, the report explained. During March, two severe blizzards occurred over most of the range country.

Dozen Recreation Plans Urged For Near North Side

Omaha (AP) — Twelve recreation projects to be completed within the next two months for Near North Side youth were recommended to the mayor's "blue ribbon" recreation committee.

Kermit Hansen, who made the report at an executive committee meeting, said "at the moment I don't know where we will get the money — except from the generous people of Omaha."

Athletics, especially basketball, and teen-age dances were emphasized. The goals include swimming pools, tennis courts, bowling facilities and a center for boxing, judo and wrestling.

The long-range goals are to develop fully Adams Park and to acquire and develop a new park.

The mayor's committee was formed July 11 after the Fourth of July disturbances on the Near North Side.

Don't miss it. News of friends on vacation, marriages, engagements, parties, PTA notes and club meetings makes good reading in the family section of "Sunday Journal and Star."

School Bd. Has Not Adopted Budget, McCormick Explains

Omaha (AP) — President George F. McCormick says the Omaha Board of Education has not adopted an operating budget for Omaha public schools for the 1966-67 school year.

It has been reported previously that the board, at its Monday meeting, had adopted the operating budget totaling $24,850,000 for the coming school year.

Mccormick said the board at its Monday meeting heard the first reading of the proposed budget, and added that "it was a first reading only."

He said it was "merely a statement of record as to the dollar costs and dollar needs as seen now to operate the Omaha public schools during the coming school year."

McCormick said final reading of the proposed budget will be at the meeting at which the district's mill levy is set.

"This is an open public meeting and at that time all interested persons may comment," McCormick said. "At this meeting, the budget can also be changed."

He said a date for the meeting cannot be set at this time "because of the uncertainty of the property valuations within the district."

The Omaha World-Herald said records for the last 20 years show that the budget first approved by the board has been very close to the final detailed budget presented in September.

Board of Education Secretary Charles Beattie said that although the budget may be changed later, it in fact has been adopted.

Beattie said adoption of a budget requires only one reading.

McCrory said final reading of the proposed budget will be at the meeting at which the district's mill levy is set.

Marty Niermann of Coleridge was named youth chairman for Robert V. Denney of Fairbury, Republican First District congressional candidate.

Niermann is former chairman of Wayne State Young Republicans, and member of the board of the Nebraska Council of Youth.

City Cigarette Tax OK, Auto Fee Hike Asked

The League of Nebraska Municipalities legislative committee will present to the 1967 Legislature bills to increase the automobile registration fee by $5 and permit cities to levy a one-cent cigarette tax.

Revenue from the registration fee hike would be divided among cities and counties.

The cigarette tax could be used to fund park and recreation improvements and fire and police pensions.

The proposals are included in 19 bills which will be laid before the lawmakers.

Training Urged

The committee, chaired by Herbert File of Omaha, also agreed to sponsor a legislative resolution to provide for training of public employees.

Four proposed bills are still being held by the committee for further study.

A report on the committee's action was published in the July issue of the Nebraska Municipal Review, a League publication.

Others Okayed

Among other bills approved for presentation to the senators are proposals to provide for maintenance of state highway connecting links, to provide for an urban highway fund and to permit extension of electrical service areas by annexation.

The committee also approved bills to authorize special assessment districts for off-street parking in first class station KMTV.

Gautier Elected

Omaha (AP) — Mark O. Gautier, 36, a 1955 graduate of the University of Omaha School of Journalism, has been elected president of the Omaha U Alumni Association. Gautier is news director of television station KMTV.

AN ACT relating to taxation; to define terms; to impose a tax on net income of individuals, trusts, and estates; and on net income of corporations; to delineate exemptions from taxation; to provide for determination of the tax rate; to define permitted accounting periods and methods; to provide for the allocation of income between and among states when necessary to permit reciprocity with respect to income tax laws of other states; to provide for declarations and payment of estimated tax; to provide for the withholding of appropriate portions of employee wages; to permit tax deferment for military personnel during open hostilities; to incorporate by reference particular portions of the federal income tax statutes, and rules and regulations promulgated thereunder; to provide for all aspects of administration and enforcement; to provide penalties; and to provide severability.

Be it enacted by the people of the State of Nebraska,

Section 1. As used in this act, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) Net income for a corporation or fiduciary shall mean taxable income as defined in the applicable sections of the Internal Revenue Code, that is, gross income as therein defined minus the deductions as therein allowed, and for the purpose of determining the income of a cooperative there shall be considered the net income of the cooperative before any payments obligated or paid as dividends or patronage rewards;

(2) Net income for an individual shall mean that sum delineated by section 62 of the Internal Revenue Code, minus all exemptions and deductions permitted by the Internal Revenue Code as reflected on line 11d of Form 1040-1964, U.S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service;

(3) Business situs shall mean:

(a) The owning or operating of business facilities or property, or the conducting of business or farming operations in Nebraska;

(b) Working for salary or wages in Nebraska;

(c) Being a member of a partnership or stockholder of a corporation transacting business and obtaining income from Nebraska sources;

(d) Being a person who is the beneficiary of any estate or trust deriving income from Nebraska sources; and

(e) Any other activity from which income is received, realized, or derived from Nebraska sources; Provided, that the receipt of income derived solely from interest or dividends or a combination thereof from sources within Nebraska shall be insufficient to establish business situs unless coupled with one or more of the activities set forth above;

(4) Commissioner shall mean Tax Commissioner;

(5) Corporation shall mean any corporation formed under the laws of any government, any common law trust, and any association of whatever kind other than a partnership; Provided, that the following corporations shall be exempt from taxation under this act:

(a) Those enumerated under subdivisions (1) to (15) and (17) of section 501 of the Internal Revenue Code, except as modified by sections 511 to 515 inclusive of such code; and (b) those immune from taxation under the United States Constitution, except that such corporations shall be taxed if consent to do so is granted by Congress;

(6) Doing business or carrying on business shall mean every act, power, or privilege exercised or enjoyed in this state;

(7) Domestic when applied to a corporation shall mean created or organized under the laws of Nebraska;

(8) Employee shall mean employee as defined in section 3401(c) of the Internal Revenue Code;

(9) Employer shall mean employer as defined in section 3401(d) of the Internal Revenue Code;

(10) Fiduciary shall mean a guardian, trustee, executor, administrator, receiver, conservator, or any person acting in any fiduciary capacity for any person, estate, or trust;

(11) Fiscal year shall mean an accounting period of twelve months ending on the last day of any month other than December;

(12) Foreign when applied to a corporation shall mean created or organized outside of Nebraska;

(13) Gross income shall mean gross income as defined in section 61 of the Internal Revenue Code;

(14) Individual shall mean a natural person;

(15) Internal Revenue Code shall mean the Internal Revenue Code of the United States as of January 1, 1965;

(16) Nonresident shall mean any person or corporation not a resident or part-year resident of Nebraska;

(17) Part-year resident shall mean any person who has entered or left the state during the taxable year, and has been domiciled or resided in the state for less than the entire taxable year. The taxable income of such taxpayer from sources within this state shall be determined in the same manner as provided for nonresidents;

(18) Payroll period shall mean a period for which an employee is ordinarily paid by his employer;

(19) Person shall mean an individual, trust, or estate;

(20) Resident shall mean any person who (a) has been domiciled in Nebraska during the entire taxable year, or (b) has resided in Nebraska during the entire taxable year;

(21) Taxable year shall mean the taxable year as shown on an income tax return filed pursuant to the Internal Revenue Code;

(22) Taxpayer shall mean any person or corporation subject to taxation under this act;

(23) Wages shall mean wages as defined in section 3401(a) of the Internal Revenue Code;

(24) Income from a trade or business shall mean income arising from transactions and activity in the regular course of a trade or business of the taxpayer, and includes income from tangible and intangible property if the acquisition, management, or disposition of such property constitutes an integral part of the taxpayer's trade or business. It also includes income from the disposition of property used in the trade or business of a taxpayer;

(25) Compensation shall mean wages, salaries, commissions and any other form of remuneration paid to employees for personal services;

(26) Sales shall mean all gross receipts of the taxpayer derived from the conduct of a trade or business, but shall not include receipts from the sale or other disposition of property not held for sale in the regular course of the taxpayer's trade or business; and

(27) State shall mean any state of the United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, any territory or possession of the United States, and any foreign country or political subdivision thereof.

Sec. 2. (1) Tax returns shall be filed by:

(a) Persons and corporations, including fiduciaries and receivers thereof, in accordance with section 6012 of the Internal Revenue Code; Provided, that all references to income in such section shall, for the purposes of this act, include only such income as is subject to taxation under this act; and provided further, that joint returns by husband and wife shall be filed in accordance with the provisions of section 6013 of the Internal Revenue Code. The method selected for filing federal income tax returns shall be the method used for filing returns under this act; and

(b) Every partnership having a resident partner in Nebraska, a business situs in Nebraska, or having gross income derived from sources within Nebraska. Such return shall be for information purposes only. This subdivision shall not be construed to render any partnership a taxpayer under the provisions of this act. Returns shall be prepared on forms to be provided by the commissioner, which shall correspond with the returns required by section 6031 of the Internal Revenue Code insofar as consistent with the provisions of this act.

(2) Any small business corporation, as defined in section 1371 of the Internal Revenue Code, may file with the commissioner an election to be taxed as a partnership in accordance with section 1372 of the Internal Revenue Code. The net income for any such corporation in any taxable year for which such election is in effect shall be included in the net income of the shareholders in the manner and to the extent provided in sections 1373 to 1377 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(3) All returns for the calendar year shall be filed by April 15 of the subsequent year; and

(b) Returns prepared on the basis of a fiscal year shall be filed by the fifteenth day of the fourth month following the close of the fiscal year.

(4) (a) The tax imposed by this act shall be paid to the commissioner on or before the date upon which the return must be filed; and

(b) Interest shall be assessed at the rate of six per cent per annum on any tax not paid by the due date.

(5) (a) The commissioner may, whenever in his judgment good cause exists, grant a reasonable extension of time for filing any returns required by the provisions of this act; Provided, that an extension of three months shall be allowed

(b) Interest shall be assessed at the rate of six per cent per annum on any tax not paid by the due date.

(6) The commissioner may, whenever in his judgment good cause exists, grant a reasonable extension of time for filing any returns required by the provisions of this act; Provided, that an extension of three months shall be allowed

(b) Interest shall be assessed at the rate of six per cent per annum on any tax not paid by the due date.

(7) Domestic when applied to a corporation shall mean created or organized under the laws of Nebraska;

(8) Employee shall mean employee as defined in section 3401(c) of the Internal Revenue Code;

(9) Employer shall mean employer as defined in section 3401(d) of the Internal Revenue Code;

(10) Fiduciary shall mean a guardian, trustee, executor, administrator, receiver, conservator, or any person acting in any fiduciary capacity for any person, estate, or trust;

(11) Fiscal year shall mean an accounting period of twelve months ending on the last day of any month other than December;

(12) Foreign when applied to a corporation shall mean created or organized outside of Nebraska;

(13) Gross income shall mean gross income as defined in section 61 of the Internal Revenue Code;

(14) Individual shall mean a natural person;

(15) Internal Revenue Code shall mean the Internal Revenue Code of the United States as of January 1, 1965;

(16) Nonresident shall mean any person or corporation not a resident or part-year resident of Nebraska;

(17) Part-year resident shall mean any person who has entered or left the state during the taxable year, and has been domiciled or resided in the state for less than the entire taxable year. The taxable income of such taxpayer from sources within this state shall be determined in the same manner as provided for nonresidents;

(18) Payroll period shall mean a period for which an employee is ordinarily paid by his employer;

(19) Person shall mean an individual, trust, or estate;

(20) Resident shall mean any person who (a) has been domiciled in Nebraska during the entire taxable year, or (b) has resided in Nebraska during the entire taxable year;

(21) Taxable year shall mean the taxable year as shown on an income tax return filed pursuant to the Internal Revenue Code;

(22) Taxpayer shall mean any person or corporation subject to taxation under this act;

(23) Wages shall mean wages as defined in section 3401(a) of the Internal Revenue Code;

(24) Income from a trade or business shall mean income arising from transactions and activity in the regular course of a trade or business of the taxpayer, and includes income from tangible and intangible property if the acquisition, management, or disposition of such property constitutes an integral part of the taxpayer's trade or business. It also includes income from the disposition of property used in the trade or business of a taxpayer;

(25) Compensation shall mean wages, salaries, commissions and any other form of remuneration paid to employees for personal services;

(26) Sales shall mean all gross receipts of the taxpayer derived from the conduct of a trade or business, but shall not include receipts from the sale or other disposition of property not held for sale in the regular course of the taxpayer's trade or business; and

(27) State shall mean any state of the United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, any territory or possession of the United States, and any foreign country or political subdivision thereof.

Sec. 3. (1) Effective January 1, 1967, a tax is hereby imposed on the net income of every person and corporation subject to taxation in accordance with the provisions of this act: Provided, that any corporation subject to tax under section 44-1213, 77-908, or 81-523, Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, or section 77-909, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1963, shall be credited, in the computation of tax due under this subsection, with the amount paid during the taxable year in compliance with the above sections.

(2) The rate of the tax imposed by subsection (1) of this section shall be a flat rate irrespective of income, which rate shall be determined by the State Board of Equalization and Assessment on or before September 1 of each year for taxable years beginning during the subsequent calendar year. In determining such rate, the board shall:

(a) Determine the fixed appropriations from the General Fund from a statement to be prepared by the Auditor of Public Accounts in accordance with section 77-513, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1963, and submitted prior to the convening of the board;

(b) Provide for one half of such appropriations in each year of the biennium, less the unappropriated miscellaneous receipts and fees to the General Fund estimated annually in advance; and

(c) In the calendar year in which the Legislature convenes, include appropriations for the legislative session, and all miscellaneous claims, deficiency bills, and emergency appropriations payable from the General Fund.

In establishing the tax rate the board shall consider the probable net income taxable under the provisions of this act during the subsequent calendar year and an estimate of the amount that shall be available in the General Fund at the conclusion of the present calendar year.

Sec. 4. (1) If the taxpayer files a federal income tax return, his income shall be computed for the purposes of this act on the basis of the same calendar or fiscal year required by the federal government, and he shall employ the same methods of accounting required for federal income tax purposes.

(2) If a return is made by a taxpayer for a period of less than one year, the net income, computed on the basis of the period for which a separate return is made, shall be placed on an annual basis by multiplying the amount thereof by the number of days in the year; Provided, that if such computation does not provide a fair and reasonable apportionment of the taxpayer's income, the taxpayer may petition the commissioner for permission to use an alternative method of computation, or the commissioner may require computation by an alternative method. The commissioner may approve such alternative methods of computation as he may deem appropriate in particular situations.

Sec. 5. (1) The following portions of net income of resident persons shall be taxable under the provisions of this act:

(a) Income from personal or professional services regardless of where performed;

(b) Income from intangible personal property owned by such resident;

(c) Income from tangible property owned by such resident and not employed in the taxpayer's business, regardless of where located;

(d) Income from tangible property owned by such resident and employed in the taxpayer's business, if such business consists principally of the holding of such property and the collection of income and capital gains therefrom, regardless of where located;

(e) Income derived from carrying on a trade or business, if such trade or business is conducted wholly within Nebraska; and

(f) Returns required to be filed pursuant to the provisions of this act.

(g) The inclusion of one or more additional factors which will fairly represent the taxpayer's net income derived from sources within Nebraska; or

(h) The employment of any other method to effectuate an equitable allocation of the taxpayer's net income.

(i) The portion of net income derived from sources within Nebraska which is separately taxable under the provisions of this act.

ing of summons, the cause shall proceed as in other civil cases. If the court finds that any tax is due, it shall enter judgment for such tax, including any interest, additions, or penalties that may also be due and owing, against the taxpayer. Any taxes, penalties, additions, or interest paid and found by the court to be in excess of that which can be legally assessed, shall be ordered refunded to the taxpayer with interest from the time of payment.

(b) Should any taxpayer demand any act, order, or proceeding of the commissioner illegal or prejudicial to the public interest, he may (i) pay the tax or deficiency as assessed, together with interest and penalty thereon, or (ii) file with the clerk of the district court of Lancaster County or the county in which he resides or has his principal office or place of business sufficient and adequate bond-in-double the amount of the tax, addition, penalty, and interest allegedly due, executed by a surety company licensed and authorized to do business in Nebraska and conditioned for the payment of any tax, addition, penalty, and interest that may be found due by the court. The taxpayer may then file suit against the commissioner within sixty days after such act, order, or proceeding is consummated for a review thereof by the court. Such act, order, or proceeding shall not be valid until after the time allowed for taking such court action has expired or until such court action is finally determined. If the court finds that any tax is due, it shall, unless the tax has been paid, enter judgment therefor against the taxpayer and the surety. Any taxes, interest, additions, or penalties paid and found by the court to be in excess of those which can be legally assessed, shall be ordered refunded to the taxpayer, with interest from the time of payment, except that this section shall not apply to jeopardy assessments.

(c) Any party to the proceedings may appeal to the Supreme Court from the judgment of the district court. If the appeal is taken by the commissioner, he shall not be required to give any undertaking or make any deposits to secure the cost of such appeal.

Sec. 14. (1) Any (a) tax due and unpaid under the provisions of this act, (b) interest, penalty, or addition to such tax, (c) tax, interest, penalty, or addition to such tax which has been erroneously refunded, and (d) any deficiency shall constitute a debt to the State of Nebraska which may be collected by lien foreclosure or sued for and recovered in any proper form of action, in the name of the State of Nebraska, in the district court of the county wherein the taxpayer resides or owns property. The remedy provided in this section shall be in addition to any and all other existing remedies.

(2) (a) If any person liable to pay any tax neglects or refuses to pay the same after demand, the amount of such tax, including any interest, penalty, or addition to such tax, together with any costs that may accrue in addition thereto, shall be a lien in favor of the State of Nebraska upon all property and rights to property in this state, whether real or personal, belonging to such person.

(b) Properly exempt from distraint shall be the same property as is exempt from execution under the laws of this state.

(c) In case of neglect or refusal to pay taxes or deficiencies as provided, the commissioner may levy or, by warrant issued under his own hand, authorize a sheriff, constable, or deputy commissioner to levy upon, seize, and sell all property, both tangible and intangible, any right, title, and interest to such personal property, and shall include, without limitation, stocks, securities, bank accounts, and evidences of debt.

(d) If any person liable to pay any tax neglects or refuses to pay the same after demand, the amount of such tax, including any interest, penalty, or addition to such tax, together with any costs that may accrue in addition thereto, shall be a lien in favor of the State of Nebraska upon all property and rights to property in this state, whether real or personal, belonging to such person.

(e) Such lien shall not be valid as against any mortgagee or other lienholder, pledgee, purchaser, or judgment creditor until notice thereof has been filed, in the appropriate county office of any county in which the property subject to lien is situated.

(3) (a) If any tax, including any interest, penalty, or addition to such tax, and any tax or any interest, penalty, or addition to such tax which has been erroneously refunded, imposed by this act is not paid when due, the commissioner may within three years after the tax is due, file for record in the appropriate county office of any county in which property belonging to the taxpayer is situated a notice of lien specifying the year and the amount of the tax, interest, penalty, additional amount, or addition to such tax due. Such notice shall contain the name and last-known address of the taxpayer, an identification number, and a statement to the effect that the commissioner complied with all the provisions of this act in the determination of the amount required to be paid. From the time of filing for record, the amount set forth in such notice shall constitute a lien upon all property in the county then owned by the taxpayer, and upon all property acquired by him thereafter and before the lien expires.

(b) The lien may, within five years from the date of filing for record of the notice of lien, be extended by filing for record a new notice. From the time of such filing the lien shall be extended only to the real property of the taxpayer in such county for five years, unless fully released or otherwise discharged.

(c) When a notice of such lien is filed, the appropriate county official shall enter the same in an alphabetical state tax lien index, showing on one line the name and residence of the taxpayer named in such notice, the commissioner's serial number of such notice, the date and hour of filing, and the amount due. All original notices shall be retained in numerical order in a file designated state tax lien notices.

(d) When a certificate of discharge of any tax lien issued by the commissioner is filed in the office where the original notice of lien is filed, the appropriate county official shall enter the same with the date of filling in the state tax lien index on the line where notice of the lien so discharged is entered, and shall permanently attach the original certificate of discharge to the original notice of lien.

(e) The commissioner may at any time release from a lien all or any portion of the property subject thereto, or he may subordinate the lien if he determines (i) that the taxes, penalties, additions, or interest are sufficiently secured by a lien on other property of the taxpayer, (ii) that the release or subordination of the lien will not endanger or jeopardize the collection of such taxes, penalties, additions, or interest, (iii) that a surety bond or securities satisfactory to secure deposits of public funds has been posted, deposited, or pledged with the commissioner in an amount sufficient to secure the payment of such taxes, penalties, additions, or interest, or (iv) all or a part of such taxes, penalties, additions, or interest have been paid. A certificate by the commissioner to the effect that any property has been released from a lien, or that such lien has been subordinated, shall be conclusive evidence that such action has been taken.

(f) In any case where there has been a refusal or neglect to pay any tax, including interest, penalty, or addition to such tax, together with any costs that may accrue in addition thereto, the Attorney General, at the request of the commissioner, may file an action in the district court of the county in which such lien is filed to enforce the lien upon any property and rights to property, whether real or personal, or to subject any such property and rights to property owned by the delinquent, or in which he has any right, title, or interest, to the payment of such tax. Such action shall be commenced and pursued in like manner as is provided for the foreclosure of mortgages. Such action may be commenced at any time within five years following the date such lien arose or was last extended.

(4) (a) In addition to all other remedies or actions provided by this act, it shall be lawful for the commissioner to collect any taxes due together with interest, penalties, and additions to such tax, by distraint and sale of the property of any taxpayer who neglects or refuses to pay the same within sixty days from the mailing of notice and demand for payment thereof, and who has not appealed from the assessment of such taxes, interest, penalties, and additions pursuant to the provisions of this act, or who has not satisfied or discharged any lien filed under this act. The term property as used in this subsection shall mean personal property, both tangible and intangible, any right, title, and interest to such personal property, and shall include, without limitation, stocks, securities, bank accounts, and evidences of debt.

(b) Properly exempt from distraint shall be the same property as is exempt from execution under the laws of this state.

(c) In case of neglect or refusal to pay taxes or deficiencies as provided, the commissioner may levy or, by warrant issued under his own hand, authorize a sheriff, constable, or deputy commissioner to levy upon, seize, and sell all property, both tangible and intangible, any right, title, and interest to such personal property, and shall include, without limitation, stocks, securities, bank accounts, and evidences of debt.

(d) If a taxpayer violates or attempts to violate any provision of this section there shall, in addition to all other penalties, be added as part of the tax twenty-five per cent of the total amount due.

(e) If the taxpayer is not within this state, or has departed from the state and ignores all demands for payment, the commissioner may employ the services of any qualified collection agency or attorney and pay fees for such services out of any money recovered.

(f) A deficiency assessed against a person not within this state may be prosecuted by an action in any court in this state having jurisdiction of the subject matter, and the court shall have in personal jurisdiction of such person in any such action for taxes imposed and assessed under this act. Notice shall be given such person by personal service without the state or by publication, and the action shall proceed in accordance with the statutes regulating procedure in this state. If such notice shall be by publication, notice shall also be mailed by registered or certified mail to such person at his last known address.

Sec. 15. (1) Except as provided in subsection (7) of section 2 of this act:

(a) The amount of tax imposed shall be assessed within three years after a return is filed, and no proceeding in court without assessment for the collection of such taxes shall be begun after the expiration of such period. If an assessment has been made within such time, such tax may be collected by levy or by a proceeding in court within a period of six years after assessment. The remedy provided in this subdivision shall not preclude resort to any of the other remedies provided in this act.

(b) In the case of income received during the lifetime of a decedent, the tax shall be assessed, and any proceeding in court without assessment for the collection of such tax shall be begun, within six months after written request therefore, filed after the return is made by the executor, administrator, or other fiduciary representing the estate of such decedent; and

(c) When taxable income for any year has been adjusted by federal audit or otherwise, and no corresponding adjustment has been reported to this state, the limitation upon assessment shall be one year from the date of the provisions of this act.

livery of notice of final determination thereof to the commissioner.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (2) of section 16 of this act as to secrecy, any duly constituted committee of the Legislature shall have the right to inspect returns upon request.

(3) Nothing in this section shall prohibit a taxpayer, or his authorized representative, upon proper identification, from inspecting or copying his own income tax returns.

Sec. 16. (1) (a) Any person required under the provisions of this act to pay any tax, or required by law or regulations made under authority of this act to make a return, keep any records, or supply any information, for the purpose of the computation, assessment, or collection of any tax imposed by the provisions of this act, who willfully fails to pay such tax, make such returns, keep such records, or supply such information at the time or times required shall, in addition to other penalties provided by law, be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than three hundred dollars, or be imprisoned for not more than six months or both.

(2) The commissioner may refund all taxes, interest, additions, and penalties erroneously or illegally assessed or collected.

(3) No such credit or refund of taxes, penalties, additions, or interest paid shall be allowed or made after three years from the time payment was made unless before the expiration of such period a claim therefor is filed by the taxpayer. The period for allowing credit or refund shall be one year from the time of final determination of federal tax liability if the taxpayer's adjusted gross income has been thereby decreased.

(4) Upon the allowance of a credit or refund, of any sum erroneously or illegally assessed or collected, or of any penalty collected without authority, or of any sum which was excessive or in any manner wrongfully collected, interest shall be allowed and paid on the amount of such credit or refund at the rate of six per cent per annum from the date such sum was paid or from the date the return was required to be filed, whichever date is later, to the date of the allowance of the refund, or in the case of a credit, to the due date of the amount against which the credit is allowed, but in case of a voluntary and unrequested payment in excess of actual tax liability, no interest shall be allowed when such excess is refunded or credited.

(5) (a) No commissioner, deputy commissioner, or clerk, agent, or employee of the commissioner, shall divulge or make known to any person in any manner any information whatsoever obtained directly or indirectly by him in the discharge of his duties, or permit any income return or copy thereof, or any paper or book so obtained, to be seen or examined by any person except as provided by law, except that in any action or proceeding brought for the collection, remission, cancellation, or refund of the whole or any part of a tax imposed under the provisions of this act, or for enforcing the penalties prescribed for making false or fraudulent returns, any information contained in such returns may be furnished or made accessible to the officers or representatives of the state or county charged with the duty of prosecuting or defending the same, under such rules and regulations as the commissioner shall prescribe. All such returns and the statements and correspondence relating thereto may be produced in evidence in any action or proceeding, civil or criminal, directly pertaining to such returns or the tax imposed on the basis of such returns.

(b) If a taxpayer violates or attempts to violate any provision of this section there shall, in addition to all other penalties, be added as part of the tax twenty-five per cent of the total amount due.

(c) If the taxpayer is not within this state, or has departed from the state and ignores all demands for payment, the commissioner may employ the services of any qualified collection agency or attorney and pay fees for such services out of any money recovered.

(d) A deficiency assessed against a person not within this state may be prosecuted by an action in any court in this state having jurisdiction of the subject matter, and the court shall have in personal jurisdiction of such person in any such action for taxes imposed and assessed under this act. Notice shall be given such person by personal service without the state or by publication, and the action shall proceed in accordance with the statutes regulating procedure in this state. If such notice shall be by publication, notice shall also be mailed by registered or certified mail to such person at his last known address.

Sec. 17. (1) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (2) of section 16 of this act as to secrecy, the commissioner may permit, under such rules as he may prescribe, the Commissioner of Internal Revenue of the United States or his delegate or the proper officer of any state imposing a tax on or according to income to inspect the income tax returns of any taxpayer making returns under the provisions of this act. The commissioner may also furnish to such officer or his authorized representative an abstract of any income tax return or any matter contained in any affidavit statement or certificate made or filed in connection with any return, or any information disclosed by the report of any investigation relating to the income or tax of any taxpayer. Such permission shall be granted or information furnished to such officer or his representatives only if the statutes of the United States or such other state, as the case may be, grant substantially similar privileges to the proper officer of this state charged with the administration of the provisions of this act.

(2) In the case of income received during the lifetime of a decedent, the tax shall be assessed, and any proceeding in court without assessment for the collection of such tax shall be begun, within six months after written request therefore, filed after the return is made by the executor, administrator, or other fiduciary representing the estate of such decedent; and

(3) Any corporate officer or employee with the duty to pay taxes imposed upon a corporation or to perform some other act required of a corporation shall be personally liable for the payment of such taxes or penalties in the event of willful failure on his part to perform such act.

Sec. 18. (1) Where there has been an overpayment of any income tax imposed by the provisions of this act, the amount of such overpayment shall be credited against any income tax then due from the taxpayer, and any balance of such excess shall be refunded to the taxpayer.

(2) Nothing in this section shall prohibit a police officer, or his authorized representative, upon proper identification, from inspecting or copying his own income tax returns.

Sec. 19. After the period of limitations fixed in section 15 of this act, the commissioner may destroy obsolete tax returns.

Sec. 20. All funds received by the state under the provisions of this act shall be deposited by the commissioner, as received by him, with the State Treasurer to be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the General Fund.

Sec. 21. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, or provision of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional or invalid, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act.

Few People Report Crimes Right, Police Discover From Experience

By JOHN DeCAMP
Star Staff Writer

No one knows whether they will ever have to report a crime to police—but police, through experience, have discovered that very few people know how to report a crime properly.

Many people—through carelessness, panic or ignorance—give wrong address, then indicate wrong information or some other information.

Do not hang up the phone until you are certain the police dispatcher has sufficient information.

Recently, an excited lady telephoned police headquarters, and when the desk sergeant answered, the lady said, "Someone is breaking in my front door! Please send the police right away!"

Then she hung up before the desk sergeant could reply. Lacking a name or an address, the police can do little.

Describe the incident carefully. Certain types of crimes require special equipment or personnel. Therefore, be patient if the desk sergeant transfers your call to the Criminal Division, Traffic Division, Vice Detail, etc., after he evaluates the circumstances.

Indicate Number
—Indicate the number of people involved, their address if you know it, their descriptions if pertinent. You are the one—and often the only one—who knows what the suspect looks like.

—Describe vehicles and license numbers if cars are involved. Officers will want to know the year, make, body style, color and license numbers of vehicles. Direction of travel is also important. Police units responding to a call may intercept the criminal as he is fleeing.

—Keep the telephone numbers of law enforcement authorities near the phone.

Barry Advises LBJ To Talk Sense To Rioters, Defends Canyon Dams

Washington (UPI) — Former Sen. Barry Goldwater said Wednesday that President Johnson ought to go out into the big cities and spend two or three weeks "talking common sense" to rioters.

Declaring "the Negro has been promised the moon in civil rights and it hasn't been delivered," Goldwater said:

"If I were president I would visit these big cities and point out the danger that these riots may blow up into something that we cannot control."

The White House commented that Johnson already has spoken out against civil violence.

Goldwater, the 1964 Republican presidential nominee, spoke at the National Press Club. He said the only solution to violence is for Negroes and whites to learn to live together.

A Hard Job Goldwater, who plans to seek a Senate seat from Arizona in 1968, was asked about Republican chances of defeating Johnson in 1968. He replied:

"I have never believed in the myth that anybody is invincible. But it will be a difficult task. Republicans will have a rough time but I think we can beat him."

As for his own plans, Goldwater said he does not relish opposing his old friend Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., in 1968, but he thinks Hayden would rather be opposed by him than some other Republican.

In his prepared speech, Goldwater defended plans to build two dams in the Grand Canyon, saying they are needed to provide water "from the Colorado River to the central valleys of Arizona."

He said opponents of the project, particularly the Sierra Club, a San Francisco-based conservation organization, are using the "big lie" technique.

Uninformed Persons
"Many uninformed persons have been led to believe, for example," Goldwater said, "that completion of this sorely needed project would turn one of nature's great wonders into a huge bathtub filled with water."

The Central Arizona Project calls for building two dams. The Hualapai Dam would back up a lake which would touch the western boundaries of the Grand Canyon National Park. The Marble Canyon Dam would not touch the park.

The Sierra Club says the dams would ruin one of the scenic wonders of the American West.

Because of its lobbying campaign, the Internal Revenue Service has threatened to take away the club's tax-exempt status.

Goldwater said, "I yield to no one in my love of nature, particularly the spectacular brand with which my home state has been so bounteously endowed. But, even this love must be subjugated, if need be, to the requirements of people to live and to prosper with adequate supplies of water."

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth suffer embarrassment because their plates drop, slip or wobble at just the wrong time. Don't live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little PASTEETH, the non-acid powder on your dentures. It holds teeth more firmly so they feel more comfortable. Check denture breath. Dentures that fit are essential to health. See your dentist regularly. Get PASTEETH at all drug counters.

SCARY REPORT DENIED

Cambridge, Mass. (UPI) — Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory Wednesday denied a scary report that the asteroid Icarus may collide with earth with the force of 1,000 hydrogen bombs.

The world's clearing house for all astrophysical information also said it had no knowledge of a report that the United States, Britain and Russia were studying the possibility of using a nuclear rocket to prevent the asteroid from smashing into earth.

"Contrary to alarm caused by a recent report, Icarus will not collide with, but will pass four million miles away as previously predicted," a Smithsonian spokesman said.

He added this four million mile distance could be "off by no more than 100 to 150 miles."

Smithsonian hoped its strong statement would put to rest any fear generated by an earlier report that a microscopic deviation in the orbit of the asteroid Icarus could put it on a collision course with earth in June, 1968.

An asteroid is a small planet with a diameter ranging from a fraction of a mile to nearly 500 miles.

"As far as is known there is no positive record of evidence of an asteroid ever hitting the earth," Smithsonian said.

Dr. Paul Herget of the University of Cincinnati and Dr. Gerold Clemence of Yale University, two of the world's authorities on asteroids, agreed there was not "one chance in a billion" that Icarus will strike earth.

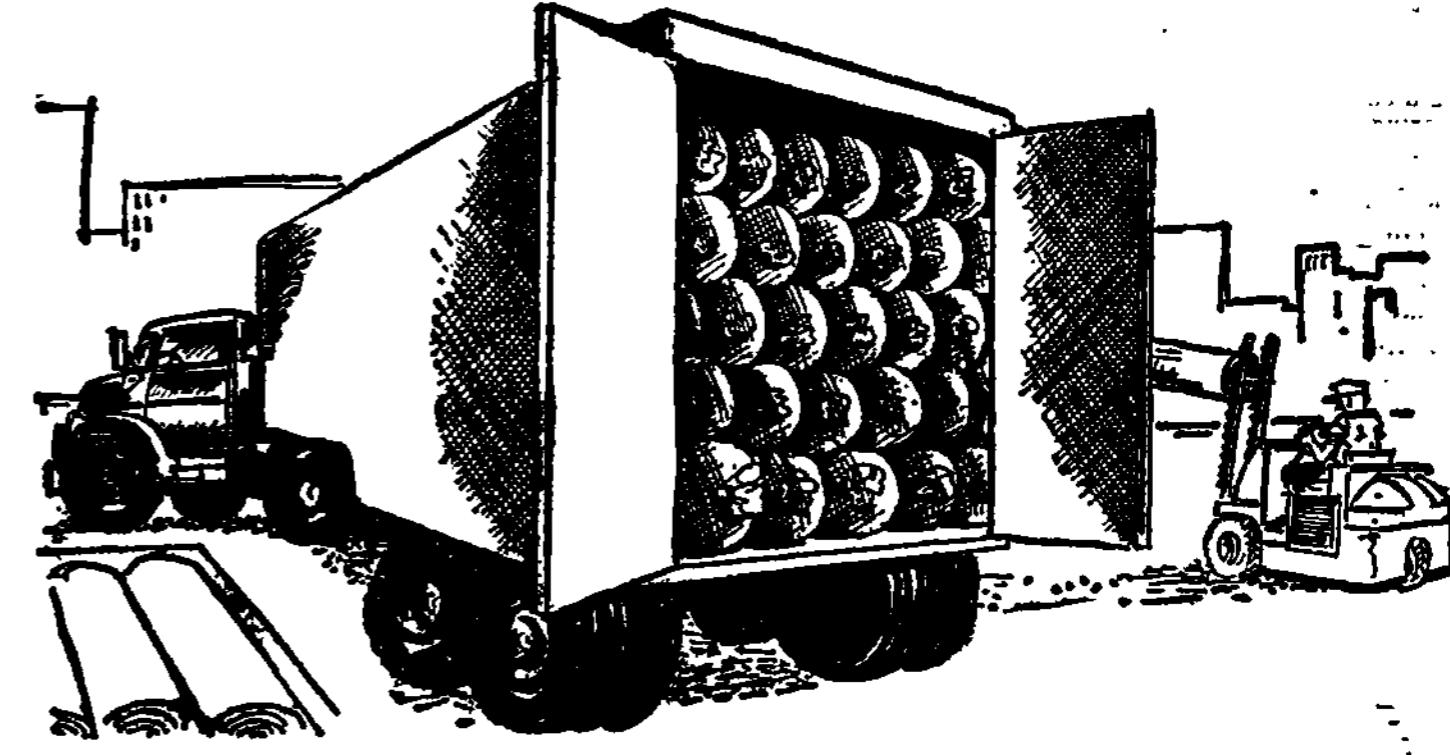

The possibility of such a disaster was raised by Prof. Stuart Thomas Butler, a 44-year-old Australian professor of theoretical physics at Sydney University.

Senate Cuts, Passes LBJ's Military Foreign Aid Plans

Washington — The Senate cut $100 million from President Johnson's $892 million military foreign aid program Wednesday and then passed it.

Before wrapping up its work on the measure the Senate beat back efforts to make a deeper slash in the program — $250 million—and to require President Johnson to dip into the defense appropriation in order to pay for the military aid spending.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and thus nominal manager of the bill on the floor, voted against the military aid authorization on the final passage.

Mansfield Concern: The measure was acted on after a day of debate that began with Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana stressing the senators' concern with the size and cost of the U.S. troop force in Europe and urging a cutback.

Underscoring the obvious Senate mood to cut back on aid spending were the votes cast for the reduction by two of the committee chairmen most involved in the program — Fulbright of the Foreign Relations Committee and Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., of the Armed Services Committee.

The action on the military aid program came a day after the Senate completed action on the economic aid program, cutting it a total of $409 million below President John- Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois son's $2.47 billion request.

Conferees Next: The 82-7 roll call vote sent the military aid authorization for the fiscal year which began July 1 to a Senate-House conference along with the economic aid measure. The House had lumped the two programs together but the Senate, while separating them as the administration asked, came out with an aid program far different from what the House voted or President Johnson asked.

Judging from past performances, the final result will be a compromise softening some of the budgeting given the program by the Senate.

Those who voted against the military aid on final passage were Sens. Fulbright, Quentin N. Burdick, D-N.D., Allen J. Ellender, D-La., Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, Vance Hartke, D-Ind., George McGovern, D-S.D., and Wayne Morse, D-Ore.

After the move by McGovern to cut the military aid by $250 million was rejected, 71 to 23, Morse withdrew his amendment to get a $200 million slash, saying he was throwing his support behind the effort of Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, for a $100 million reduction.

Church's cut won 55 to 37— supported by 43 Democrats and 12 Republicans, while it was opposed by 20 Democrats and 17 Republicans.

Dirksen

Senate Republican leader

Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois

noted that he had successfully captained the drive on the Senate floor to cut $250 million from the companion economic aid measure. But he declared he was not going to "jeopardize" national security by voting against military aid.

Just before the passage vote, McGovern produced the amendment to require the President to get the military aid funds from the defense appropriation. He declared it would be in line with Johnson's cost-cutting effort. The move was rejected by voice vote.

Mansfield complained of allies using a double standard in honoring NATO commitments and said "there is an immediate and urgent need for U.S. forces elsewhere."

He urged a 10% cut in U.S. strength in Germany and elsewhere in Europe.

Church argued his reduction would not affect the war in Viet Nam—because that support is channeled through other legislation—"but it will, I hope, curtail the pointless scattering of American arms across Latin America, Africa and the more removed parts of Asia."

Florida Dual Slaying Trial Date Set

Sarasota, Fla. (UPI) — A Florida judge Wednesday set Nov. 7 as the tentative trial date for Carl A. Coppolino, a young retired doctor charged with two baffling murders.

The date was entered on the books despite the fact that arraignment of the 34-year-old suspect—a necessary step before he can be brought to trial—was delayed until Sept. 1 because his lawyer is on vacation.

Circuit Judge Lynn Silvertooth asked attorneys for their estimate on how long the trial would last, and then selected the tentative date so he could get the case on his calendar.

Coppolino was smiling and in apparent good spirits when he appeared before Silvertooth, but the father of one of his alleged victims showed none of his composure.

Irate Father

The irate father smashed the camera of New York Daily News photographer Hal Matheson, took a swing at a reporter and hurled a heavy ashtray at other newsmen.

Coppolino is charged in Sarasota with the death of his former wife, Carmella, who was also a doctor, and in New Jersey with the slaying of a man who was once a close friend, retired Army Lt. Col. William E. Farber. It was the late Mrs. Coppolino's father, Dr. C. A. Musetto, who tangled with newsmen.

The death certificates for both victims listed a heart attack as the cause of death, but when Farber's body was exhumed and an autopsy conducted, tests showed he was strangled.

Authorities believe Coppolino used a drug once believed to be undetectable after death to kill his former wife, described as a dark-haired beauty.

In New Jersey, Gov. Richard J. Hughes signed a petition for Coppolino's extradition to stand trial for Farber's slaying. Monmouth County

County Budget Hearing Draws Only One Person

Only one person appeared Wednesday at the Lancaster County public hearing on the proposed $6 million budget for the 1966-67 fiscal year.

Attorney Leo Bartunek requested the board to include more money in the budget for purchasing property to provide additional parking stalls around the new city-county building.

"We do have a shortage of necessary parking stalls . . . and enough additional money must be appropriated by this board so that you can later put in these parking stalls."

"Otherwise, the patrons of the city-county building will have to park right out here in the middle of 9th and 10th streets," Bartunek said.

He also urged the board to include money for a separate generator unit to provide power in case of emergency to the new building.

Of the total $6,080,667 proposed budget, $2,340,947 would be raised through local taxes as compared with $1,877,331 raised through taxes last year.

Until the county's valuation is determined, it is impossible to predict a possible levy if all requests should be approved by the Lancaster County Board.

The only department head present at the hearing was Engineer Hugh Dillon, who made the trip from the hearing from Denver where he has been recuperating for several weeks.

Mart Secretly Decides Lower Tariff Offers

Brussels (UPI)—The Common Market Wednesday finally decided on the offers it will make to bring down agricultural tariffs in the so-called "Kennedy round." The offers could form part of a future trade agreement between the United States, Europe and other countries.

A Common Market representative carried the still-secret offers to Geneva to present them to the General Agreement on Trade and Tariffs (GATT) which is organizing the Kennedy round.

Sources said the offers consist of three parts—direct tariff cuts, increased quotas and freezing subsidies on a variety of farm produce.

Already Completed
Industrial offers already had been completed.

Basically, the offers could

Sen. Stromer Breaks Leg

State Sen. Marvin E. Stromer suffered a severe leg fracture last Saturday when he fell down a staircase while carrying his three-year-old daughter.

The Lincoln lawmaker said his ankle and lower right leg were broken in three places. He has been placed in a hip-high cast.

Stromer explained that he was carrying his daughter, Gretchen, when his heel caught on the stairs. He fell in such a manner as to protect the child.

"I am very thankful she was not injured. My first thought was to protect her," he said.

The three-term legislator said he expects to be placed in a walking cast in about three to four weeks. In the meantime, he said he will use crutches to get to important Legislative Council meetings.

Stromer will join the Hiram Scott College faculty at Scottsbluff this fall.

Negro Educator Given Richmond Schools Position

Richmond, Va. (AP)—A Negro educator became the first of his race Wednesday to be appointed to the top-echelon administration of the Richmond public school system.

Dr. James T. Guines, 34, was appointed by the city school board as administrative assistant to school Supt. H. I. Willett.

Guines currently is professor and chairman of the department of education at St. Augustine's college in Raleigh, N.C.

Morrison Plans To Meet With Power Agencies

Gov. Frank Morrison said Wednesday he will call a meeting "within the next two weeks" of Nebraska's power generating agencies to discuss the power supply situation in the state.

He said the state's Power Review Board would also be invited to discuss the reports.

being submitted by Consumers Public Power District, Nebraska Public Power System and Omaha Public Power District.

William Norton, power board chairman, said power agency reports on the two major power outages earlier this month are being received, according to Morrison.

Morrison said a preliminary report indicates the state "does not have sufficient tie-ins or points of supply that adequately safeguard against outages."

Also, he noted, "Nebraska has need for additional power to supply the state's projected growth."

"If the state's economic growth rate continues at the present rate of the past five years," he said, "our power sources need to be expanding at a more rapid rate."

The state's power outages in early July resulted from a faulty relay on the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation transmission line from South Dakota to Columbus and a transformer breakdown at Consumers' Hallam generating plant.

The Power Board met in Lincoln to analyze data gathered from power agencies for inclusion in its report to the governor.

Blatchford Claims State Was On Brink Before

A rural public power leader said Wednesday that the Nebraska Public Power System was "on the brink" of power outages in 1963, 1964 and 1965.

"But this year it happened," D. A. Blatchford of Columbus noted.

"The fact is, and we all know it, that we do not have a adequate facilities in Nebraska," the general manager of the Nebraska Electric Generation and Transmission Cooperative declared.

"The outage experience at 11:03 a.m. on Monday, July 11, did not come as a surprise to those who are informed about our situation in Nebraska," Blatchford said.

NPPS, he said, was "on the brink of a similar crisis at the peaks" of power demand experienced in each of the last three years.

"Any system that is not able to ride through and absorb an outage on the most critical transmission line or most critical generation unit is not adequate," Blatchford said.

"Any attempt to shift the blame outside the state or to a mechanical device is nothing more than a diversion."

Blatchford noted that the G & T filed an application with the Nebraska Power Review Board in 1964 to construct a major interconnection to the Nebraska system, but "we were opposed by every major outstate utility and even by two rural districts."

Loss of production in industry, labor and agriculture from a power blackout is "tremendous," Blatchford said. "If the total could be calculated, it would be astounding."

Nebraskans, he said, are "fed up. They believe that we have sustained more than our share of these experiences—and they are right."

2 Scholarships To Fremont Girl Will Total $600

Susan Emily Vonderlage, a 1966 graduate of Fremont Senior High School, has received scholarships totaling $600 to attend the University of Nebraska this fall.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Vonderlage, she was awarded the $500 Fremont scholarship for ability and interest in journalism, and also received the $100 Minnie Latta Ladd Scholarship, donated by the Lincoln Chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority Alumnae for a deserving woman student.

Court Needs New Home

United Nations (UPI) — A spokesman reported Secretary-General U Thant will advise the 22nd session of the General Assembly in 1967 that the International Court of Justice at the Hague needs a new home.

Bigger Ships Wanted

Tokyo (UPI) — A Japanese shipbuilder, the Mitsubishi Shipbuilding and Engineering Co., asked government permission to build the world's biggest dry dock, which could be used to build mammoth tankers up to 300,000 tons deadweight.

The Power Board met in Lincoln to analyze data gathered from power agencies for inclusion in its report to the governor.

State Officials Are In Washington To Discuss Nebraska Freedom Meal

State Agriculture Director Pearle F. Finigan said Wednesday that state officials are in Washington, D.C., discussing the new Nebraska Freedom Meal with federal officials and the Indian Embassy.

They are Sen. Harold Stryker of Rising City and Asst. Atty. Gen. Mel Kammerlohr.

Finigan said the state's new formula for a high-protein meal, using farm products, has "interested federal officials" in connection with U.S. Food for Peace efforts to fight world hunger.

Stryker and Kammerlohr will report to Finigan next week on the results of their meetings in Washington.

Gateway Area Changes Nixed

... BY PLANNING BOARD

By BOB SCHREPF
Star Staff Writer

Two requests for a change to commercial zoning for separate tracts surrounding the Gateway Shopping Center area were turned down by the City-County Planning Commission Wednesday.

Action on a third change of zone application in the same vicinity was deferred.

The commission followed Planning Director Douglas Brodgen's recommendation for denial in voting 5-0 to disapprove the applications of Harold B. Conant for a change of zone from A-2 single family dwelling to G-1 planned commercial for .27 acres of land abutting the east edge of Gateway, and L. B. Neuman for a zoning change from A-2 single family to I-commercial and D multiple dwelling for 9.35 acres on the southwest corner of 66th and Vine.

Final action will be taken by the city council.

Attorney Richard Peterson, said Conant, an electronics manufacturer, has contracted to sell his property to an investor who plans to construct a 100,000 square foot building which has been proposed to be leased to one of three national retail chains.

Not Named

Peterson did not reveal names of the land purchaser or the chain stores, but said the development would involve $1½ million in construction costs, excluding land development.

In support of the zoning change, Peterson cited the extension of commercial zoning surrounding Gateway. "This is a natural extension of Gateway zoning . . . the highest and best use for the subject property," he said.

Brodgen, noting that the commission and the council had denied a similar application three years ago, recommended denial of the Conant request on the grounds that the street system, even developed to its fullest extent, could not handle traffic which might be generated from the large potential business area, including Gateway.

Ample Land

He also told the commission there is ample land zoned for business uses in other areas and that the application is not in conformance with the comprehensive plan. Further,

Brodgen said, "each time the city approves a change of zone within or at the edge of a large area, it becomes more difficult to control the use of a large area."

In presenting the Neuman application, real estate agent proposes a $750,000 commercial development on the triangular tract bounded by 66th, Vine and the Missouri-Pacific Railroad.

Putney said negotiations are being held with several retail outlets, including dry cleaning and tire stores, a printing shop, drive-in restaurant and service station. Duplexes are also planned for the portion proposed for D multiple zoning.

Similar

Brodgen's recommendation for denial was similar to his objections to the Conant application, adding that approval would constitute spot zoning and would have an adverse effect on adjacent residential properties.

The commission, operating with only a quorum of five members, also voted unanimously to recommend denial of the Neuman request.

Commission members agreed to defer the application of Educators Security Insurance Co. for a change of zone from H-1 highway business to F restricted commercial on property at 301 No. Cotner.

Whitehead Oil

buys interests of Weaver Oil

The Whitehead Oil Co. recently purchased the Phillips 66 interests of the Weaver Oil Co., a transaction involving seven service stations, it was announced Wednesday.

Bruce Whitehead, president of the Whitehead Oil Co., said that the transaction had been discussed for about a month, but agreement was not reached until Tuesday night.

The amount of money involved in the agreement was not disclosed.

The seven-station deal gives the Whitehead Oil Co. control of 32 of the 34 Phillips 66 service stations in Lincoln, Whitehead said.

The company was founded seven years ago when Whitehead bought out the Phillips 66 Petroleum Co.'s interest in 16 gasoline service stations.

CENTENNIAL SHIP DOCKS IN ST. LOUIS

St. Louis, Mo. (AP)—The "S. S. Centennial," the first and only vessel in Nebraska's land-lock navy, arrived Wednesday . . . St. Louis on a journey down the Missouri and Mississippi rivers to New Orleans.

The craft and crew of four 19-year-olds, all of whom carry the rank of admiral left Omaha July 16 and hope to arrive in New Orleans Aug. 13 after making stops along the rivers to promote the state's centennial next year.

Adm. Richard Gallentine's ship sails under a special 37-star flag for Nebraska's entry into the union as the 37th state.

The crew, which also includes Tom Moderow and Mark Hansen, of Aurora, and Glenn Friendt of Lincoln, said it had encountered few difficulties.

The admiral's visited with St. Louis Mayor A. J. Cervants Wednesday.

Keys In Car To Cost Fine, But Not Points

Official tickets for persons who leave keys in their cars will not cost vehicle owners points on their drivers' licenses, the State Motor Vehicle Bureau said Wednesday.

That word came shortly after Lincoln police issued a warning that beginning Wednesday, persons who leave keys in their cars will be ticketed for a court appearance.

Fine for the offense ranges from $1 to $100 at the discretion of the judge.

Lincoln Police Traffic Lt. Melvin Dorn noted that the ticket, which will be placed under the windshield wiper of the automobile, will be made out to the registered owner of the vehicle.

The local police department recently came under fire from the city council for not strictly enforcing the city ordinance.

"This is what the city council wants, and this is what we are going to do," Lt. Dorn said.

Grivas, Greeks To Talk Out Cyprus Problems

Piraeus, Greece (AP)—Gen. George Grivas, commander in chief of the Cyprus armed forces, arrived Wednesday for talks with the Greek government on the military situation in Cyprus.

A Greek government source said recent clashes between Greek and Turkish Cypriots near Nicosia also would be discussed.

'Research Funds Needed At NU'

Research capabilities at the University of Nebraska are limited now by physical facilities, libraries and personnel.

This was the conclusion reached by Dr. Merk Hobson, Vice Chancellor and Dean of Faculty, in testimony prepared for the Senate Committee on Government Research at a hearing in Washington D.C., today.

Dr. Hobson was unable to appear in person because of transportation problems.

He said in his testimony if matching federal funds were available to institutions like Nebraska on a long-range program, it might be possible to use local sources more effectively during a period of rapid expansion.

The committee was told that the University of Nebraska received federal grants of $7,746,375 for the fiscal year ending July 1, 1966. This amount was exclusive of special facilities grants and represented an increase of $2,389,095 over the preceding year.

Support Urged

Additional federal support for institutions which have long traditions in graduate education, but which have not been able to develop full capabilities in research, was advocated by Dr. Hobson. He said such support would benefit the nation's research capability.

"In addition, newer institutions of potential quality could and should be encouraged," said Dr. Hobson in his testimony. "Such a development would further the Ph.D. producing potential of the country."

In the past, institutions most heavily engaged in research activities have been the principal beneficiaries of federal support. Educational institutions have secured support on the basis of demonstrated competence of the investigator and the technical merits of the proposal.

"In general, the academic community has no quarrel with this type of support," said Hobson.

Profound Effect

"These practices and procedures have had a profound effect upon higher education and have established some trends which may not be in the long-term interest of higher education in the United States. The larger graduate school has become larger to the point where the traditional concept of the doctorate is disappearing."

If the prediction of a need for 80,000 persons with Ph.D. degrees annually by 1980 is realistic, a far greater base for excellent graduate education must be established, the Nebraskan said. One means of effecting this would be to provide greater research and development support for smaller institutions with long and relatively substantial tra-

Justices Urged To Review Interracial Marriage Ban

New York (UPI) — The American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) Wednesday urged the U.S. Supreme Court to review the constitutionality of Virginia's miscegenation laws. The ACLU argued that the state's laws making racial intermarriage a criminal act violate the 14th Amendment to the Constitution, the right of privacy and the right to marry.

The organization's statement was on behalf of Richard Loving, a 31-year-old white construction worker, and his part-Indian, part-Negro wife, Mildred.

The Lovings were arrested July 11, 1958, in Caroline County, Va., where they were living, five weeks after their marriage in Washington, D.C. They were given one-year prison terms which were suspended on condition that they leave Virginia and not return together for 25 years, the ACLU said.

Mission, Spring Watersheds On List To Congress

Washington (UPI) — A list of about 50 watershed projects has been sent to Congress by the Budget Bureau.

The projects had been held up by the bureau because of President Johnson's position that they should be acted upon by Congress itself rather than just by committees of Congress, a spokesman said.

He said the list was sent to Congress with the understanding that in the future such projects will go before the House and Senate for action.

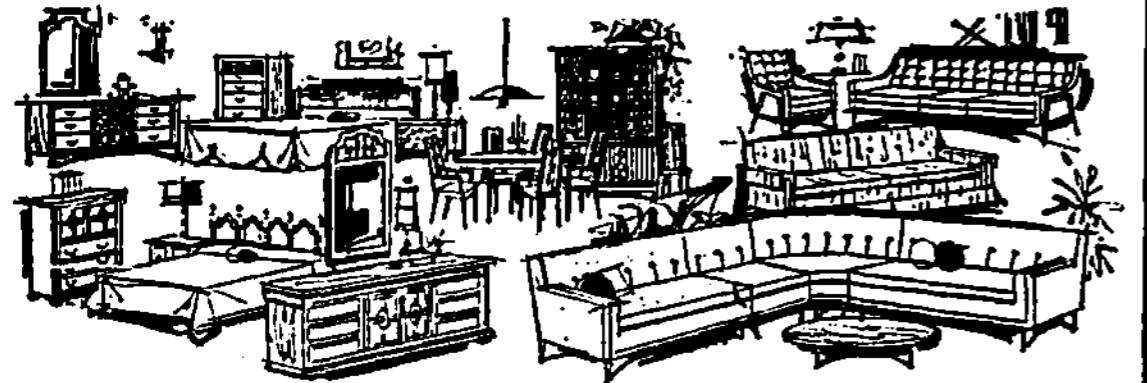

Under a 1954 law, watershed proposals approved by the Agriculture Department have gone to the Bureau of the Budget and then have been submitted to Congress, with larger projects going to the House and Senate Public Works Committees and smaller ones to the two Agriculture Committees for consideration.

Projects sent to Congress Monday included Mission Creek, Kansas and Nebraska; Spring Creek, Nebraska.

Speck's Freedom Depends On Sanity

Chicago (UPI)—An expert on Illinois criminal law said Wednesday Richard Speck, indicted for the massacre of eight young nurses, could go free on an insanity plea—even if he admitted he committed an "act" of murder.

There is even a possibility that Speck, 24, could avoid trial entirely, attorney Howard Newcomb Nourse said.

Morse, consulting attorney for the American Medical Association and former De Paul University law professor, outlined these possibilities as State's Atty. Daniel P. Ward and his aides mapped their case against the sometime seaman from Dallas, Tex.

Speck, named in eight murder indictments Tuesday, was reported recovering in the city jail infirmary from a heart ailment and self-inflicted gashes on his left arm. A medical bulletin reported that his "condition and progress continue satisfactory."

Speck was excused from an appearance Thursday before

Felony Court Judge Daniel J. Ryan. Both First Asst. State's Atty. John J. Stamos and Speck's lawyer, Public Defender Gerald Getty, waived the prisoner's appearance because the scheduled preliminary hearing had become a mere formality.

Speck faces arraignment Monday before Chief Judge Alexander J. Napoli of Criminal Court. One of Napoli's first tasks when he returns from vacation will be to name the judge to preside at the murder trial.

Morse said Speck could make an admission and still go free if his lawyer convinced the court that Speck was legally insane at the time of the slayings but had regained his sanity.

Speck could avoid trial, Morse said, if his lawyer filed a pretrial petition declaring his client "criminally mentally incompetent" and unfit to stand trial, and convinced the court that Speck was incompetent.

Communications Union Turns Down Late Bid

New York (AP)—Representatives for 22,000 telephone equipment installers Wednesday turned down a last-minute wage offer from Western Electric Co., less than 12 hours before their own midnight deadline for a new agreement.

President Joseph A. Beirne of the AFL-CIO Communications Workers of America said the offer was the company's first in a month of negotiations. He called it "pitifully inadequate," and accused Western Electric of making "a parody on substantial collective bargaining."

Beirne, who flew here from Washington Tuesday after his chief negotiator reported almost no progress, said he found it "shocking that this major division of one of the country's biggest and most prosperous corporations could wait until the last minute before making a first offer."

Beirne officials have not detailed their wage demands. They are also asking increased fringe benefits. Western Electric said installer wages currently average $3.00 and hour, and range from $1.87 to $4.00.

Tax Increase Still Possible Despite Higher Federal Take

Washington (AP)—Despite fresh estimates that federal income will climb higher than government economists figured, a tax increase is still a live possibility for next year.

But officials emphasized Wednesday that no tax decision has been made by the Johnson administration. The door is still open for a possible hike even this year, although this now appears unlikely especially in view of November's congressional elections.

"It's still an open question," one well-placed source said. "Any decision will depend on future developments."

It was learned that federal experts now expect tax collections for the fiscal year which began July 1 to climb about $4.5 billion higher than they originally estimated. However, increases in Viet Nam war spending could offset this bonus and then some.

Congress Adds $1.2 Billion to President Johnson's $112.8 billion spending proposals for the fiscal year, and some officials see a potential for adding another $4 billion to $5 billion.

Exact figures are still lacking, but government experts foresee tax collections higher than expected during the current fiscal year from both corporation and individual income levies without any boost in basic tax rates.

State and gift taxes which produced more revenue than expected last year are another factor.

POSTCARD

Plenty of summer mail advising me that Africa is the ONLY place to go.

Africa is getting quite a bit of tourist traffic now. People are wild to go to new places. To do so they'll put up with discomforts that would entice them in American resorts. And an enthusiastic language is developing to describe it when you come home.

"Quaint." (The bathroom is down the hall and around the bend.)

"Old World." (The toast is cold. The coffee is cold.)

"Exciting climate." (The rain in Spain falls mainly down your neck. And it was cold as well digger's memories.)

"They handcraft everything." (Bought it in Paris. Made in Japan.)

The advantages of Africa are that you can shoot the daylights out of the animals. Most travel brochures advise you to go on safari.

I never went to Africa. But was a member of the posh Mount Kenya Safari Club. It was owned by Ray Ryan, the oil millionaire, and William Holden, the movie star millionaire. Still is, I suppose.

We got our news of the Club from Joe Glaston who was Mr. Ryan's press agent. He didn't go on safari either. But he shot his releases from Palm Springs, and you could hear the lions roaring.

I have the Club brochures. I expect prices have gone up. Lamb chops have gone up ridiculously in the supermarket here. So I imagine elephant has gone up in Africa.

An excellent room at the Club is available for less than $10 a day including board," says the brochure. I'd consider that most reasonable.

Of course getting to the club is not like bus fare. It is about $1,700 round trip from New York—$108 more if you want to go deluxe, and you might as well.

You are now in the $10-a-day room. But you must go on safari.

A moderate safari will run you $3,000 for 30 days. This may seem a little high at first. But consider that it includes a White Hunter. Not William Holden, but a White Hunter who looks a good deal like William Holden.

It includes a staff of gunbearers and skinners. Drivers, cooks and personal servants. A safari is not like trapping gophers in the backyard. You must carry enough people to staff a 20-room house or run a small Mau Mau rebellion.

For your three grand you also get a radio receiving and sending set; a 4-wheel safari car, and a 5-ton truck to transport the equipment.

This also includes all the delicacies of food and drink which are the rightful due of a safari hunter. The Club is first-class all the way.

You are now prepared to slaughter the finest animals of Africa. Your rifle is rented to you for $55 a month. Your safari suit costs you $26. The boots are $13. And hats go for $7. Or $14 if you want an authentic zebra skin band. Take it. It looks better in the pictures.

There is a standard fee for every animal brought down.

The first elephant costs you $220. The second will be $290.

But you can shoot a Haggard's Oribi or a Cottontail's Oribi for a dollar each. A Klipspringer goes for the same price. Certainly reasonable—you can empty the clip for a mere $5 and have five exotic animals.

Lions are $75. Everybody wants a lion, and the price is up. But you can gun an ostrich for $14. And murder monkeys for only $4 each.

Taxidermist charges cost you—$200 to stuff a lion.

It's customary to tip your favorite gunbearer.

You can probably do the whole thing for $10,000.

The tourist vocabulary for this when you get home is: "It was the most thrilling experience of my life and worth every penny of it."

(Meaning, "I should have stayed in that $10 room and had the meals sent up.")

Don't miss it. News of friends on vacation, marriages, engagements, parties, P.T.A. notes and club meetings makes good reading in the family section of "Sunday Journal and Star."

Washington (D.C.) — With a sharp increase in juvenile lawlessness, the nation's crime rate continued to rise faster than its population growth, with a 5% increase in 1965.

The FBI's annual crime report said Wednesday serious crimes occurred at a rate of five a minute last year, with more than 2.78 million such crimes reported.

The increase was sharpest in the suburbs—8%—and in the western states—10%.

The 5% gain in the crime rate reflected more than 14 crimes for every 1,000 inhabitants of the United States.

And while the rate increase fell off from the 11% gain reported a year ago over 1963, the crime rate continued to outpace the population increase by almost six to one. Since 1960, the FBI said, serious crimes have increased 46% while the population has grown by 8%.

The FBI figures carried a grave portent for the future of law enforcement. Arrests of juveniles under 18 for serious crimes have increased by 47% in the past five years—nearly three times the 17% increase in the population of that age group.

In determining the rate of serious crimes, the FBI and reporting law enforcement agencies measure murder, rape, assault, robbery, burglary, larceny, and auto theft. The rate showed the lowest rate with a 3% gain. The crime rate rose 4% in cities over 250,000 population.

Following the 10% increase in the western states, the Northeast showed an 8% gain, the north central and southern states 4% each.

The FBI pointed out that the crime rate does not represent the number of criminals but the incidence of crime to the population.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said the crime figures indicate an urgent need every 1,000 inhabitants.

to re-evaluate police manpower requirements. There was no change last year, he said, in the police employee rate in the nation's sites—1.7 sworn police personnel for every 1,000 inhabitants.

The 192-page FBI report also produced these statistics:

—The repeater rate is high. More than 48% of 6,900 criminals released in the first half of 1963 were arrested for new crimes within two years of their release.

—There were 37 arrests for all offenses, except traffic, for

Nebraska Crime Up In Every Category Except Forcible Rape During '65

By Associated Press
The Federal Bureau of Investigation reported Thursday that major crimes in Nebraska increased in all but one category during 1965.

Figures for the year compared with 1964 showed increases in murder and non-negligent manslaughter, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny and auto theft, with a decrease in forcible rape.

The FBI's annual report listed 12,576 total offenses at a rate of 851.5 per 100,000 residents on the basis of a 1965 population of 1,477,000.

Listing 1964 population as 1,480,000, the FBI said there were 11,008 offenses that year at the rate of 743.8 per 100,000 residents.

Offenses were detailed for the Omaha, Lincoln and Sioux City, Iowa—Nebraska metropolitan areas.

For the state, the FBI reported the following comparisons, with 1964 totals listed first:

Murder and non-negligent manslaughter, 34 and 36; forcible rape, 85 and 76; robbery, 306 and 324; aggravated assault, 351 and 416; burglary, larceny, 5,832 and 5,884; auto theft, 2,302 and 2,404.

A breakdown was listed for Lincoln, including Lancaster County with 168,000 population; Omaha, including Douglas, Sarpy and Pottawattamie County in Iowa, 519,000 population; and Sioux City, including Woodbury County, Iowa, and Dakota County, Nebraska, 119,000 population.

Lincoln had 1,764 total offenses, including three murder, 16 forcible rape, 13 robbery, 99 aggravated assault, 639 burglary, 763 larceny and 231 auto theft.

For Omaha, the report listed 7,853 total offenses, including 29 murder, 40 forcible rape, 289 robbery, 68 aggravated assault, 3,650 burglary, 1,899 larceny and 1,887 auto theft.

Dodd Meets Accuser At Deposition Session

Washington (UPI) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., met columnist Jack Anderson at a closed deposition session Wednesday for the first time since Anderson and his associate, Drew Pearson, began a series of published attacks against him.

"It was a pleasant, cordial session," Anderson said. "But tomorrow will be different. We won't be as gentle with him as the Senate Ethics Committee."

Dodd, under committee investigation for misconduct charges, underwent the first two hours of deposition-taking in his $2 million libel suit against Pearson and Anderson.

Anderson said Wednesday's questioning concerned Dodd's legal career and his admission to the Connecticut bar. Dodd refused, on the advice of counsel, to answer questions pertaining to his campaign finances, whether his son, Jeremy, was on his Senate payroll, and whether he owned a car or ever used one owned by a firm, the columnist said.

"He offered no objections to the questions but refused to answer them," Anderson told newsmen outside Dodd's office.

Dodd had no comment.

Six Hurt As Storm Levels Farmhouse

Wood, S.D. (UPI)—Six persons were injured Wednesday night when a storm, possibly a tornado, leveled a farmhouse northwest of here in south central South Dakota.

Three of the injured, including two babies, were admitted with undetermined injuries at the Rosebud hospital.

Authorities could not determine if the storms that hit the home were a tornado or high winds. However, a tornado was sighted near Winner, S.D.

In addition, high winds leveled an airport hangar on the north edge of Winner and destroyed four planes and two cars that were parked in the structure.

There was also reports of crop damage in the Winner area as heavy rains hit parts of Tripp and Mellette Counties Wednesday evening.

Mexico Asks Israel

Tel Aviv (AP)—Mexico has asked Israel to undertake a Mexican national irrigation planning project, an agriculture ministry spokesman reported. He said the request came during a 10-day visit to Israel desert developments by a 12-member Mexican agriculture and water experts delegation.

Wilson's Economic Austerity Survives, 325-246

London (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson beat down an opposition onslaught on his policy of economic austerity in the House of Commons Wednesday night.

An opposition motion of no confidence in the government's handling of economic affairs was defeated 325 to 246—a government majority of 79.

A number of Wilson's left-wing followers, alarmed over the possibility of massive unemployment, did not vote with the government which has a majority of 96.

Defending Policy

Wilson, defending his policy which aims at cutting spending by $2 billion, told the House the recent run on sterling was partly due to the pound taking some of the brunt of an attack on the American dollar.

Wilson also hinted at another major cause during a defense of the Labor government's economic policies in the House of Commons.

Importers throughout the sterling area—made up of chiefly Commonwealth lands which peg their currencies to the pound—sped payments for their goods because they feared an imminent devaluation, he said.

This would have saved them money if the pound had been devalued from its official parity level of $2.80.

Britain serves as banker to the sterling area. Cost to Britain's reserves of a one-week speedup of the whole area's import payments, Wilson estimated, is 150 million pounds ($420 million).

The prime minister's explanation did not impress Reginald Maudling, speaking for an opposition Conservative motion censuring Wilson's men on charges of mismanagement of the nation's finances. Maudling attributed the trouble to a collapse of confidence in the labor government.

Gimmick Technique
"The world has rumbled the prime minister," he said. "His technique of gimmick ai-ter gimmick, of covering the failure of one publicity stunt by the noise of the next one, has been exposed."

Wilson did not identify those he said are attacking the dollar but informants said he is convinced President Charles de Gaulle of France means to carry out his campaign to have gold, rather than the pound or the dollar, accepted universally as backing for international trade and financing.

This, in his view, is why the French are hoarding gold and, as he sees it, spreading suggestions that the British must devalue if they want to join the European Common Market.

Western Electric Plant Annexation Opposed

Omaha (B)—The Omaha City Council was urged by the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday not to annex the Western Electric works southwest of the city.

The planning board chairman, Col. Anson D. Marston, said he would not object "to leaving the plant out until 1969 or 1970," and pointed out that the board in effect provided for this in its annexation recommendation last

$3,000 Yearly Profits From Mileage Told

Omaha (B)—Sheriff Patrick B. Corrigan told the Douglas County Board Wednesday he made a profit of "roughly $3,000 a year" transporting prisoners from the county jail to the penitentiary and reformatory in Lincoln.

Appearing at a public hearing on the county budget, Corrigan was questioned about the practices of deputies driving prisoners to Lincoln in his private car.

Commissioner John Y. McCollister asked "do you get mileage?"

"Ten cents a mile in Douglas County and eight cents a mile in other counties," Corrigan said.

In response to another question, Corrigan said the deputies "receive their salaries."

Corrigan, now paid $10,000, is one of seven officeholders whose annual salary would be raised to $15,000 starting Jan. 1.

McCollister indicated the sheriff's "mileage profits" may be used in determining his salary for the coming year.

Corrigan outlined a budget request of $525,084, an increase of $35,000 over 1965-66.

The board is hearing budget requests amounting to $13,496,120, a $798,367 increase over the previous year's expenses.

Two Nebraskans Aid Ag Mission In Guatemala

Atkinson (UPI)—Two Nebraska boys will be returning this week after spending the past five in Guatemala.

Gerold Fricke, a junior in the University of Nebraska agricultural college, and Marvin Schmidt, junior agriculture student at Colorado State College were selected by the Kansas District Lutheran League to observe and assist the work being conducted on the Lutheran Church agricultural mission at Zacapa.

Agriculture mission work is relatively new in the Zacapa field. The boys were sent as part of a program to better acquaint interested persons with the idea of becoming agricultural missionaries.

Health Workshop Due At Kearney

Kearney (UPI)—A special two week workshop in secondary school health education offered by Kearney State College will be held July 30 through Aug. 13.

Sponsored in co-operation with the division of health education of the State Department of Health, the 13-day workshop will offer three hours of undergraduate or graduate credit.

Guest lecturer will be Dr. Leonard Murray of Des Moines. He is a leader in health education in the marriage, family living and society related problems.

Committee Named To Raise Money

... FOR ECONOMIC PILOT STUDY

By DICK BUDIG
Star Staff Writer

A five-man committee was named Wednesday night to raise $7,000 for a pilot study to determine whether Southeast Nebraska would make a suitable economic development area.

The five men are Dave Carson of Northern Natural Gas; W. W. Cook Sr., president of the Beatrice National Bank; Joe R. Seacrest, managing editor of the Lincoln Journal; Carroll Thompson of Carroll Thompson Co. of Lincoln, and Bob Peterson of the Community Development Committee of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The pilot study, which will begin in September and will take about three months to complete, will attempt to tell whether the concept of establishing a regional economic development area, with Lincoln as its hub, is sound.

How Much Area
—What geographical area it will cover.
—What the potential of such an organization is.

—What it will take to operate the organization.

—What it will take to set up the organization.

Stuart P. Walsh, president of Development Planning Associates, Inc., of San Francisco, presented the outline of what would be encompassed in the preliminary study. Walsh's firm has done previous work for the state of Nebraska and Northern Natural Gas.

Walsh said the study would include tapping resources, such as the University of Nebraska, for "known" information, and further study of the area for unknowns.

Visits Included

Included in tracing the unknowns, Walsh said, would be visits to the area and to major towns in the area.

One of the problems facing Nebraska, Walsh said, was the continuing decline in population, a trend that has been evident since 1950.

The remedies of this situation will have to be examined, he said.

Walsh told interested Lincoln businessmen who attended the meeting that his firm would like to begin the pilot study this fall, probably by the middle of September.

He noted that, should the beginning part of the pilot study indicate that a development organization for this part of the state prove unsuitable, his firm would notify the backers of the study.

Cost here, he said, would run about $3,000.

Homebuilders Report Backing From Congress

Washington (AP)—More than 600 builders swarmed Capitol Hill Wednesday and reported "overwhelming support" in Congress for legislation to replenish the scant supply of mortgage credit.

Their impromptu lobbying expedition was part of an emergency conference called by the National Association of Home Builders. The action was prompted by the June housing figures, which last week showed a further serious slump in new home starts and building permits.

The builders not only won assurances of support from three-fourths or more of the senators and representatives

House Panel OKs Fund To Bolster Housing Industry

Washington (AP)—A proposal to make $3 billion of funds available for the nation's housing industry—to relieve tight credit conditions—was approved Wednesday by the Senate's housing subcommittee.

At the same time the group approved a two-year trial of President Johnson's "demonstration cities" plan for rebuilding urban slums and blighted areas and improving welfare of residents there.

It also recommended to the full banking committee a two-year extension of the federal mass transportation program, with funds increased to $250 million annually instead of the existing $150 million ceiling.

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., subcommittee chairman said the additional funds for housing would become available through the Federal National Mortgage Association.

Education Project Budget Approved

An itemized budget totaling $214,452 for the project under Title I of the Elementary, Secondary Education Act was approved Wednesday by the Lincoln Public Schools advisory committee for Title I.

Members expressed satisfaction with the project to date and particularly the summer school project, which had 589 of a potential 600 students enrolled.

It was pointed out by coordinators of the five programs in operation this summer that discipline was not a problem and the youngsters, as well as the teachers involved, seemed to enjoy the program.

One coordinator said that he felt that much of the interest and motivation on the part of the youngsters was because it was the first time many of the children had ever been on top of the class.

Children coming from families with incomes of less than $2,500 for three, $3,000 for four, $3,500 for five, and

Poet Seeks Funds For 'Tent Cities' To Be In Lincoln

Edward English, a poet from Selma, Ala., who is in Lincoln seeking funds to help support "tent cities" in Alabama, will speak Friday night at a University of Nebraska Student Union meeting.

English will appear at a 7:30 p.m. meeting in the basement auditorium of the Union which is sponsored by the campus Friends of the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee. Several local clergymen are co-sponsors, the student group said.

There are four tent cities in Alabama housing several hundred share croppers evicted from their land, some for civil rights activities, English said.

Minnesota Man Chosen To Check Lincoln Libraries

Fred Wezeman, a member of the faculty of the University of Minnesota and a graduate of their Library School, was chosen Wednesday to perform a survey of the Lincoln library system, announced Charles Dalrymple, director of Lincoln Public Libraries.

Wezeman was chosen from a field of seven candidates who had expressed interest in performing such a survey. Dalrymple said that Wezeman would be contacted by the library board in the near future so that terms could be arranged.

The survey is intended to be a review of the overall system with regard to 20 years of growth. Dalrymple said that the survey should be completed by March 31, 1967.

Omaha's Sen. Mahoney Attacks Delays In State Office Building Plans

A member of the Legislative Council's executive board was critical Wednesday of delays in plans for construction of a multi-million dollar state office building.

Omaha Sen. Eugene T. Mahoney said either bureaucracy or lack of legislative direction has resulted in the unnecessary delay and he is "tired of the stalling."

Noting that the office building was to be occupied during the 1967 Centennial year, Mahoney said at the present pace Nebraska may celebrate "another centennial before we get this building."

State Engineer John Hossack, secretary of the Capitol Building Commission, conceded progress on the office building is "temporarily stalled" but said the delay seemed practical to the commission. Noting that the office building was to be occupied during the 1967 Centennial year, Mahoney said at the present pace Nebraska may celebrate "another centennial before we get this building."

Hossack said the city has indicated its plan may offer the state some money-saving possibilities. It appears the accumulation of tax money for the building will not permit an early start, the special building levy may be eliminated by voters in the November general election and there still are disagreements on a site for the office structure.

Mahoney said state officials should ignore the "merchants of fear" who say the outcome of the November election might affect plans to finance the new building. He said plans should move ahead.

The 1965 Legislature directed that the office building be constructed on state-owned land adjacent to the State Capitol.

Joint Venture

The city of Lincoln has proposed a joint city-state venture north of the Capitol, near Pershing Auditorium, under which the city would provide the site and build lower floors for parking, topped by the state's office building.

Hossack said plans for a new laboratory building for the Health and Agriculture Departments have been temporarily held up by University of Nebraska planners who are reviewing the proposed laboratory site on the University's East Campus.

He said the building could be occupied by July, 1967, if the University clears the way for the letting of construction bids in mid-September.

The Lincoln Star 31

Price Of Bread Up Two Cents

Bakeries and grocery stores throughout Lincoln have raised bread prices by approximately two cents per loaf.

The increase was generally attributed to the raised prices of the bakeries' raw materials, principally flour. Wheat prices are about seven cents a bushel above the market price of May 31.

Liebig To Attend Semantics Meet

Wayne — Mark C. Liebig, Wayne State College senior from Columbus, has been selected as a student — one of 36 in the nation — at the Institute of General Semantics Seminar to be held August 14-26 at Bard College, Annandale-on-Hudson, N.Y.

Among the 36, Liebig is one of five to receive a full tuition scholarship of $250 for the graduate-level seminar.

NEWS

of suburban areas

EARLY autumn bride-elect honored at party

There was more than one kind of a shower on Tuesday evening—There was the exceedingly welcome variety as far as the general populace was concerned—

Then there was the festive variety—a party and miscellaneous shower for September bride-elect Miss Loretta Sieck whose marriage to Kenneth Peterson will be solemnized on Sept. 3.

On Tuesday evening Miss

Gail Penrod, Mrs. Al Mac Donald and Miss Sandy Garbers complimented Miss Sieck when they entertained at the home of Miss Penrod.

mother of the bride-elect; Miss Sieck, Mrs. Robert Peterson, mother of the bride-groom; Mrs. William Sieck, the bride-elect's grandmother; Miss Penrod and Mrs. MacDonald.

There is an international slant to the suburban news o' the morning, as passport-toting travelers arrive at that point on their itinerary which reads, "Lincoln Neb., U.S.A." and prepare for an extended stay or short stopover. Among these jet-setters, too, are a few Lincoln residents who have recently returned from days of pleasure abroad.

PRAIRIE VALLEY

A tour of the Caribbean Islands ended on July 22, for Miss Marcia Brumfield, who had been planning and dreaming about the trip for two years prior to the date of departure. Miss Brumfield, a Beatrice schoolteacher, is currently in Lincoln visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Brumfield.

Accompanying Miss Brumfield on her trip were Miss Horsann Rost, of Long Beach, Calif., and Miss Georda Schlitt. Plans for the trip began when the girls were students at the University of Nebraska and their sorority, Sigma Kappa, announced its convention would be held in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

The girls attended the convention as representatives of the NU alumnae chapter and made the trip through the Islands as part of a post-convention tour with other sorority sisters.

KIMBALL CREST

Guests from Madrid, Spain, arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hempel on Tuesday for a short visit. They are Mr. and Mrs. Theodore A. Dabus and their daughter, Ellen. Mr. Dabus is associated with the U.S. Air Force in Madrid. The Dabus threesome will travel in the States until late August, and then return home to Madrid.

BISHOP HEIGHTS

Tokyo, Japan, has been home for the past five years for former Lincoln residents, Capt. and Mrs. Chalmers M. Seymour. The Seymours and their sons, Chad, Brad and Jeffrey, are in Lincoln visiting with Mrs. Seymour's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn K. Deeter.

While in Lincoln the guests also are visiting with the Captain's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Kingery and Mrs. Seymour's mother, Mrs. Lawrence W. Kane, who arrived from Lawrence, Kan., on Wednesday. On Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Deeter entertained at a canape party to honor their guests. The Seymours will leave Lincoln this weekend for their new home in Denver, Colo.

PATRICIAN HEIGHTS

July 24 was the end of a two-week camping trip for Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Leacock and their sons, Darrell, John, and Randy. The Leacocks camped their way through Colorado and Wyoming, making extended stops in the Yellowstone and Grand Tetons National Parks.

Toward the end of their journey they met relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Weir Jr., and their family at Encampment, Wyo., and completed the trip home with them. While crossing the Red Desert in Wyoming the Weirs and the Leacocks followed a hot tip from a gas station attendant about nearby fossil fields and took time out for a fossil hunt. Their time was well-spent, for their hunt was a success and the finds have since been turned over to the University of Nebraska for inspection.

FASHION

straws in the wind—from Paris

Paris is busy at the moment with a preview of what the great designers have in store for millady's autumn and winter wardrobe. Some of the designers have turned the clock back to 40 years ago—But we'll let Lucie Noel, AP fashion writer tell you what she is seeing:

Guy Douvier, Maggy Rouff's designer, sees the winter scene through rose-colored glasses. His colors are vivid, his line lively.

Waists are empire throughout. Fullness juts out, spurring from godet pleats for day time, panel pleats for street wear and extreme back fullness achieved through stiff fabrics for evening.

In tailored suits, honors are shared by the fitted bellhop jacket and by a longer one shown over a skirt with wide pressed back panels or inverted pleats.

Coats too are either pencil-slim tubular and look new, or back to swing fullness. They are dramatic, to be sure, but less exciting.

Worn under the coats are either button-through simple wool or crepe dresses with pockets and tailored detailing or the mail coat shift in a metallic-looking knit. Colors are mostly silver but often steel, bronze or gold.

For evening Douvier's imagination runs riot. His American experience has told him just how far he can go. Although he skips all over the map and through the history of costume, it is never too much theater to be wearable.

He keeps his private customer and debutante in mind and offers a choice of ideas borrowed from Persia, czarist Russia, and the middle ages. He coordinates headbands and headresses.

The most beautiful French fabrics step forth. Rich matelasses are further enhanced with glittering embroidery across shoulders and midriff. Orange, green, violet, fuchsia, sapphire, and oyster are contrasted with black velvet.

A conversation piece is in white ostrich with strips of moonlight sequin shoddered, and looking just like a Christmas tree. It is named for the holiday season, Joyeux Noel.

Usually, evening ensembles have their own coats. The tops of the dresses are richly embroidered in beads, baubles and other glitter.

Nina Ricci presented one of the best collections. The "Bias Cut," originated by Mme. Vionnet some 40 years ago, is sweeping couture and launches an entirely different handling of fabrics. Geometric construction is dead as far as Ricci is concerned. His impeccably cut dresses feature diagonal bias seams often welted.

Selection of fabrics runs to Roman stripes and plaid checks in mixtures of silk and wool madras.

Ricci's young designer, Gerard Pipart, has proved to be a designer of talent. The clothes are streamlined, sculptured and all tailoring is extremely smooth.

Pipart expresses elegance with what looks like a minimum of clutter or geometry. His coats are either cut with swing fullness or tubular and belted.

He uses a great many double faced woolens featuring bright color contrasts on the inside: pimento red, tango orange, lots of gray and white sometimes contrasted with chocolate brown. He uses precious furs—mink, chinchilla, ermine—for linings and restrains trimmings on the outside. Fur cuffs and round collars trim many little coats.

Selection of fabrics runs to Roman stripes and plaid checks in mixtures of silk and wool madras.

Fat Heels—Squared Toes

The shoe makers of America want females to tie two on—come fall and winter.

Put each foot into shoes that lace around the ankle, the way the god of speed, Mercury, is pictured. Or don't tap dancer shoes with ribbon ties.

They also want women to brace for the lace in oxfords and dress shoes. Even glittery dresses can be worn with the sparkling shoes having shimmering laces.

Trends in shoes were defined by the National Shoe Institute for fashion scribes in New York to see the newest. The event is sponsored by the American designer showings.

The trend-setting shoe manufacturers want men, meanwhile, to get a boot out fashion afoot. Males will have a wardrobe of boots, if the shoemakers have their way. Rugged boots for walking; polished boots for office; soft boots for hearth; gleaming black patent boots for formal events.

For children, there was a prediction of a large scale revival of the saddle shoe.

Buckles, bows, ankle straps, t-straps also were drummed in for women as industry pace-setters stated the case against the plain pump—a comfortable part of the dress uniform of typical American women.

The biggest change in silhouette of shoes came at the toe. Many makers squared it, turning away needle toes. Heels were squat, fat.

Spats were offered as a compromise for the woman who doesn't want to keep tootsies warm the boot way in cold weather. Button them on over your regular shoes.

Bare shoes abounded, made of transparent plastic. These were offered in styles suitable for wearing 'round the clock—provided a woman with pretty feet wants to fill her shoe wardrobe with them. The ones for day were banded in bright colors. For evening, glittery trim was added.

PORCH AND PATIO FARE

It is mid-summer—the season of jaded appetites and jangled nerves. It also is a season, especially this one, that takes considerable ingenuity on the part of the home-maker who plays the hostess role every now and then.

This morning we have a menu or two that may help—one for luncheon on the porch—another for a patio cookout—

LUNCHEON THE PORCH

HAM AND TURKEY ROLL-UPS

6 servings

- 1 tablespoon pickle relish
- $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon prepared mustard
- Dash of salt

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup dairy sour cream

6 slices boiled ham, $5\frac{1}{2} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$ inches

Sliced turkey or chicken

Gently stir relish, mustard and salt into sour cream. Spread 1 rounded tablespoon on each ham slice; place turkey on sour cream. Roll up and secure with wooden pick. Refrigerate until ready to serve.

VEGETABLE SALAD MOLD

6 servings

Ring mold, $1\frac{1}{4}$ quart

2 packages (3 oz. each) lime flavor gelatin

2 cups boiling water

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup cold water

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup white vinegar

$\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt

2 cups coarsely shredded cabbage

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup sliced radishes

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup finely chopped celery

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup shredded carrot

$\frac{1}{4}$ cup chopped green pepper

2 tablespoons chopped onion

Salad greens

Place gelatin in bowl; pour boiling water over gelatin; stir until dissolved. Stir in cold water, vinegar and salt. Chill just until mixture begins to thicken. Meanwhile, toss together cabbage, radishes, celery, carrot, green pepper and onion; pack into mold. Pour thickened gelatin over vegetables. Chill until firm. Unmold onto salad greens and fill center with Seasoned Cottage Cheese.

Seasoned Cottage Cheese

Yield: 2 cups

2 cups cottage cheese

2 teaspoons grated onion

$\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon celery salt

In a bowl stir together cottage cheese, onion and celery salt.

CHEESE ROLLS

Preheated 425 degree oven

Baking sheet

$\frac{1}{4}$ cup ($\frac{1}{4}$ stick) butter

1 cup (4 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese

1 package (8 oz.) Brown 'N' Serve Club Rolls

In a small mixing bowl cream butter; add Cheddar cheese and continue beating until fairly smooth. Split rolls horizontally. Spread each bottom with heaping tablespoon of spread; replace top halves of rolls and secure with wooden picks. Place on baking sheet and bake according to package directions.

PATIO COOKOUT

CHILLED TOMATO CREAM SOUP

6 servings

3 cups chilled tomato juice

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup instant nonfat dry milk

$\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon dill weed

In a mixing bowl beat together tomato juice, nonfat dry milk and dill weed until frothy. Pour into mugs or glasses and serve immediately.

SWEET-SOUR ROTISSERIE CHICKEN

6-8 servings

Charcoal broiler with rotisserie

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup (1 stick) butter

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup firmly packed light brown sugar

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup pineapple juice

1 tablespoon prepared mustard

Drain peaches reserving $\frac{1}{2}$ cup syrup; cut up peaches and set aside. In a saucepan combine sugar, cornstarch and cinnamon; gradually add peach syrup. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Cook 2 additional minutes. Remove from heat; add lemon juice and peaches. Cool. Serve over vanilla ice cream.

FOOD

for the 'dining room' party

$\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt
1 broiler-fryer chickens (2 $\frac{1}{2}$ -3 lbs. each)

In a small saucepan combine butter, sugar, pineapple juice, mustard and salt. Heat, stirring occasionally, until butter melts and ingredients are well blended; set aside. Wash chickens inside and out; sprinkle cavity with salt. Tie legs together and wings flat to body. Push rotisserie rod through center of chickens; push birds tightly together, anchoring securely with prongs so that chickens turn with the rod. Place rod in place and start motor. Cook 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ -2 hours or until tender, brushing occasionally with sauce.

CHEESE CARAWAY SAUCE

Yield: 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ cups

1 cup evaporated milk

caraway seed

$\frac{1}{2}$ cups (6 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese

In a small saucepan combine evaporated milk and caraway seed; heat to simmering point. Add Cheddar cheese and continue to heat, stirring constantly, until cheese melts. (Do not boil). Serve as a sauce over baked potatoes.

SPICED PEACH SUNDAE

Yield: approx. 1 cup

1 package (10 oz.) frozen sliced peaches, thawed

2 tablespoons sugar

1 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoons cornstarch

$\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon cinnamon

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup peach syrup

1 tablespoon lemon juice

Vanilla ice cream

On a warm day in Spain, a most refreshing way to start a meal is with gazpacho. The Spanish serve this zesty chilled tomato soup with a sprinkling of assorted vegetables over the top.

You can capture all the color and traditional Spanish flavors in this attractive salad version of gazpacho—we call it "Jellied Gazpacho." The soup is jelled to form the lower layer and resembles tomato aspic. The top layer combines the diced pepper, olives, and pimiento—in a lemon vegetable toppings—cucumber, green

Canned tomato sauce with cheese is used to give a flavorful new dimension to tomato aspic. It's already seasoned with a delicate blend of herbs and spices and enriched with the flavor of aged Romano cheese.

"Jellied Gazpacho" can be served on a guest menu with most any entree. We especially recommend it with broiled or barbecued chicken, yellow crookneck squash with parsley, and angel food cake with a lemon-coconut frosting.

JELLIED GAZPACHO

Top Layer

1 (3-oz.) pkg. lemon flavor gelatin

1 cup hot water
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup cold water
2 Tablesp. vinegar
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teasp. salt
1 small cucumber, cut in half lengthwise and sliced
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup chopped green pepper
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup sliced ripe olives
2 Tablesp. drained, chopped pimientos (optional)

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water, vinegar and salt. Chill until thick but not set. Fold in vegetables. Place in top of 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ -quart mold. Chill.

Bottom Layer

1 envelope (1 Tablesp.) unflavored gelatin
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup cold water
1 bouillon cube
1 cup hot water
1 (8-oz.) can tomato sauce with cheese
1 Tablesp. lemon juice
1 teasp. Worcestershire sauce

Soften gelatin in cold water. Dissolve gelatin and bouillon cube in hot water. Add tomato sauce with cheese, lemon juice and Worcestershire sauce. Pour over top layer in mold. Chill until set.

ABBY

sorry—but it happens to be his house, too

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: After eight years of marriage I am ready to leave my husband. Saturday morning while he was sleeping, I rearranged the furniture in my front room. When I went out in the afternoon, he moved everything back the way it was before I moved it. Naturally I was angry, so I moved everything back again my way.

This was no small job, Abby, as I have a grand piano, an overstuffed sofa with two matching chairs and several tables with lamps in that room. Well, at 2 o'clock in the morning my husband was moving the furniture around again. I figure that the office is HIS and the house is MINE. And I don't tell him how to arrange the office furniture and he shouldn't tell me how to arrange the house furniture. I'd like your opinion.

ANGRY

DEAR ANGRY: You don't have to share your husband's office, but he has to live in the house. If he is dissatisfied with the furniture arrangement at home, let him say so and perhaps you can effect a compromise. In a marriage, there is no HIS and HER'S. And if you two don't quit shoving that grand piano around, there will be a HIS and HER'S HERNIA.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow, 45. I work and live in a small town where every move I make is seen. I have lived in the same house for 20 years and naturally my friends and neighbors are interested in what I do and with whom I come and go.

I date occasionally and have resorted to meeting my gentlemen friends in nearby towns rather than answer questions such as "Who was he," and, "Is it serious?" I have nothing to hide, I just like privacy. Am I wrong?

DEAR WANTS: If you have nowhere to hide, don't go ducking behind potted palms in nearby towns, lest you give the appearance of guilt. ("The wicked flee when no man pursueth.")

DEAR ABBY: Why don't people who are too old to live alone put themselves in a rest home instead of waiting until their children are ready for a mental institution trying to care for them along with their own family?

I work in a rest home and I wouldn't mind living here. Elderly people need more heat than younger people. They have special diets, can't stand too much noise and many of them need some kind of medical care. They go to sleep early and get up early. Their whole routine is different.

Trying to fit them into a home with teen-agers is unfair to them and the young people, too. Why do so many older people who can well afford it, fight against going to a rest home? Once they get here they are sorry they didn't come sooner.

DEAR WORKS: Many elderly people "fight" going to a rest home because they think it's an institution for unwanted, homeless old folks who have nowhere else to go. And in some cases, their children are to blame.

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles Calif., 90069. For a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

WHY GROW OLD? questions; answers

Josephine Lowman

Q. If you once use a depilatory, do you have to continue to use it for the rest of your life?

A. No, not unless you wish to continue to remove the superfluous hair. In other words, a depilatory does not stimulate or increase hair growth. It simply melts the hair off at skin level. However, it is only a temporary measure, and the hair will reappear.

Many women make the mistake of thinking that shaving or a depilatory increases the growth of hair when the truth is that the hair would have increased anyway. Shaving and depilatories have no effect on the root, or living part, of the hair.

Q. I am 13 years old and 5 feet 2 1/2. I weigh 104 pounds. Is that good? Should I diet? I think I should lose some weight. Also is gum chewing all right? Is a pack a day too much?

A. Your weight is perfect. Maybe chewing that much gum a day is exercise enough to keep you slim. Seriously, in my opinion it isn't good for your teeth. There aren't that many places where it is appropriate to chew gum.

Q. How many calories are there in a chocolate milk? A. About 225 in a cup.

Q. Does the amount of sleep one gets really have any effect on weight? I want to gain.

A. Yes, rest periods during the day plus 8 to 10 hours sleep at night do help put on the pounds.

Opening lead-nine of hearts. The method of play known as a crossruff often permits declarer to make many tricks more than the high cards he has would seem to indicate.

Here is an unusual case where South made a slam as a result of scoring eight trump tricks with a holding of the Q-J-6-3 facing the A-8-5-2.

West led a heart. Declarer took it with the ace and decided that his best chance of making the hand was to play for a crossruff.

Accordingly, after cashing the A-K-Q of diamonds, he ruffed a spade with the deuce and a heart with the three. Another spade ruff with the five was followed by a heart ruff with the six. Declarer then ruffed the third round of spades with the eight and another round of hearts with the jack. By this time, the situation was:

North
♦ Q 10
West
♦ K 10 4
South
♦ K Q
♦ Q J 6 3

South now led the king of spades and ruffed it with the ace, forcing East to underruff, and then played the queen of hearts. There was no way for East to prevent South from scoring his twelfth trick with the queen of trumps and the outcome was that South made the slam.

There were two points of special interest in the play. First was declarer's decision to take three diamond tricks at once, in line with the general principle in crossruff hands of cashing side-winners before proceeding with the crossruff.

Second was declarer's decision to start the crossruff by trumping a spade in dummy before rumping a heart.

Radican Nearly Cinches 2nd City Junior Crown

SHOOTS 75 FOR 9-STROKE LEAD

By HAL BROWN

Star Sports Editor

John Radican, whose four-under-par 68 at Hillcrest Country Club Tuesday vaulted him into the lead in the Lincoln Boys Junior City Golf Tournament, all but wrapped up a second straight championship Wednesday at Holmes Park.

Radican shot a three-over-par 75 in the third round Wednesday, but still managed to increase his lead over the rest of the field.

The 15-year-old, who will be a sophomore at Pius X this fall, will take a nine-stroke margin to Pioneers Park today for the final round.

His closest challenger is Tom Deltmeyer, who snared the first round lead with Bill Eaton after both shot an 81 at the Lincoln Country Club.

Deltmeyer used 77 strokes at Holmes Wednesday to fall further behind Radican.

Jim Cleavenger moved into the third spot with a 79 Wednesday to edge past John Wright and Eaton. Wright's 82 dropped him to fourth with a 247 total and Eaton fell to fifth with an 81 for 248.

Radican played the front side in even par 36 at Holmes, but went three over on the back nine.

The defending champion bogeyed the 351-yard, par-4 second hole, but got back even with par by birdieing the 370-yard, par-4 fifth. He picked up a par on the tough 207-yard ninth.

The leader took three straight bogeys on Nos. 11, 12 and 13 on the back side before getting a birdie at the 331-

All-Stars Hit In Scrimmage

Rensselaer, Ind. (AP) — The College All Stars, tuning up for their big game with the Green Bay Packers Aug. 5, started slowly but finally made a respectable showing against the Chicago Bears in losing a game-type scrimmage, 34-20, at St. Joseph's College Wednesday.

The main all-star fireworks were provided by fleet Roy Shivers of Utah State, who raced 70 yards from scrimmage for a touchdown which trimmed the Bears' margin to 34-17.

On the last play of the game, Princeton's Charlie Gogolak booted the second of his two-field goals, a 36-yarder.

Gogolak's 15-yard field goal earlier trimmed the Bear lead to 7-3 in the contest in which each team was allowed 12 successive offensive plays with 36 plays by each team constituting a half.

The other collegiate touch-down came on a 10-yard end sweep by heralded Donny Anderson of Texas Tech, one of the prize rookie backfield tandem belonging to the Green Bay Packers.

The other Packer rookie star, fullback Jim Grabowski of Illinois, also played briefly as coach John Sauer experimented with three different All Star backfield units.

Grabowski carried three times, his best effort a 17-yard run.

The Bears toyed with the starts most of the way with Andy Livingston contributing a 43-yard scoring run. National football League Sayers tossing a left-hander 29-yard touchdown pass to Dick Gordon one play after Sayers nearly broke loose for a touchdown on a 39-yard run.

Sayers, quarterback Rudy Kukich and other Bear standouts played only the equivalent of two quarters.

Globe Laundry Hands Bonebright First Loss, 8-6

Globe Laundry got its first win against two losses as it belted previously undefeated Elks League leader Bonebright, 8-6, Wednesday night.

Leading the way for Globe were Tommy Thompson and Leo Eskay. Thompson belted a two-run homer in the third and went two for three, driving four runs. Eskay was two for three, scored three times and drove in one run.

Bob Vasatka got a solo homer for Bonebright in the seventh.

Golfing Clan Gathers For Indianapolis Meet

LEMA HONORED AT 500 FESTIVAL

Indianapolis, Ind. (AP) — The golfing clan gathered Wednesday for what will become known as the somber speedway tournament.

The $2,000 affair, billed as the 500 Festival Open, starts Thursday on the new speedway course with a field of about 135. It will be the first time for the event other than at 500-mile race time on Mcmarial Day, when the roar of the practicing racers bothered some golfers.

It is the first PGA stop since Champagne Tony Lema's death in a plane crash near Munster, Ind., Sunday.

Play over the entire course was halted at noon Wednesday in the middle of a pro-amateur meet.

Taps were sounded over a loud speaker system.

Father Paul Reichart, Speedway chaplain, gave a brief memorial prayer.

Flags were lowered at half-staff, to stay there for the remainder of the 72-hole tournament which ends Sunday.

There were two minutes of head-bowed silence.

Club committee women cut strips of black ribbon. The

Doug Shakes Takes Boys' Tennis Title

After being halted by rain Tuesday with the score 12-12, Doug Shakes finally outlasted Terry Van Gundy, 18-16, Wednesday in the 13-to-15-year-old boys singles finals of the annual Lincoln Elks Junior Tennis Tournament at Woods Park.

Carol Edstrom won the 13-year-old girls singles title and later teamed with Sue Wachtel for the doubles crown, a feat duplicated by Jerry Jackson, with help in the doubles from Dave Royal, in the 16-17-year-old boys' bracket. Suzanne Shakes defeated Carroll Meyerhoff in the 16-17 girls' singles but Meyerhoff reversed the decision in the doubles.

Tourney director Jerry Trumbo said the meet will include Thursday with mixed doubles play beginning at 9 a.m. in two age divisions, 13-15 and 16-17. City youngsters had battled two weeks to pare down to the area champions which qualified for this week's final playoffs.

State's Accounting Change Discussed

The Legislative Council's Executive Committee met Wednesday with representatives of the consulting firm responsible for development of the state's new accounting and budgeting system and electronic computer.

Sen. William H. Hasebrook of West Point, committee chairman, said the problems and progress of the system were discussed in executive session with representatives of Peat, Marwick and Mitchell.

The new system, being implemented by the Department of Administrative Services, was authorized by the 1965 Legislature.

The consultants said Nebraska's system is the most ambitious and progressive that has ever been undertaken by a state, according to Hasebrook.

They said there has been "some slippage" in meeting some target dates, but that the system is progressing.

Hasebrook said the consultants reported a new target date of Aug. 22 has been set up for getting the accounting and budgeting system on a "daily cycle."

He said that Administrative Services Director Willard Townsend has been advised by the consulting firm of functional and personnel problems that must be cleared up to meet critical deadlines in the budgeting-accounting system by Aug. 22.

Hasebrook said members of the Legislature's executive and budget committees will meet again with Peat, Marwick and Mitchell representatives for a further report "sometime during the week of Aug. 22 or soon after."

He said Townsend and other key personnel of the department would also be invited to the meeting.

Five Hurt As Frontier DC3 Crashes At Gallup Airport

Gallup, N.M. (UPI) — A Frontier Airlines twin-engine DC3 crashed while taking off from the Gallup Airport Wednesday, and five of the 16 persons aboard were injured.

There were 13 passengers and three crew members aboard the plane, Flight 188, which originated at Phoenix, Ariz., en route to Albuquerque.

Hospitalized were Leo Rossetti, 71, of Frederick, Colo.;

his wife, Pasqua, 67, and the stewardess, Lonnie Smith, 22, of Aurora, Colo. There were no reports on their injuries or conditions.

Charlotte Laurence, 27, of Fort Defiance, Ariz., and Dr. R. S. Brenton of Boulder, Colo., were treated and released, hospital officials said.

The plane had left the airport toward the west and had circled back toward Albuquerque when it crashed.

Lincolnite Lauds Passengers

Gallup, N.M. (UPI) — A Lincoln, Neb., stewardess of a Frontier Airlines DC3 which crashed on takeoff at the Gallup airport Wednesday praised the passengers, saying they were "very good about helping each other leave."

Lonnie Smith, 22, has been a stewardess since June 4. She was admitted to a Gallup hospital after the crash, which injured five persons. She said in a telephone interview that her injuries appeared minor and she believed the doctors just wanted to hold her for observation.

"I think the crew did a wonderful job of landing the aircraft, due to the circumstances, and the passengers were very good about helping each other leave," Miss Smith said.

She said most passengers went out the windows because of the jammed door. Miss Smith said she had just finished explaining the plane's emergency evacuation diagram and that some passengers still had the diagram in their hands when the crash occurred.

Miss Smith said she had been based at Phoenix, Ariz., for two weeks because of Frontier's arrangements to handle the increased traffic resulting from the air-lines strike. Normally she is based at Denver, Colo.

Market Surges On Long Decline

New York (UPI) — The stock market rebounded Wednesday after seven straight sessions of decline. Trading was moderate.

Volume was 6.06 million shares compared with 7.61 million Tuesday.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 4.06 to 856.23.

With no particular change in the economic or international background, the market was able to rally simply because it had been battered down to new lows for the year, analysts said.

In early dealings, airlines were especially strong on

Hospitals Report No Big Rush

A sampling of Nebraska hospitals revealed that a great rush of Medicare patients just has not developed during the first month of Medicare, an article in a newsletter of the Nebraska Hospital Association announced.

The article said that approximately 33 to 40% of the patients in Nebraska hospitals were 65 or older, but that the percentage was only about 5% over the figures for last year.

In addition, the article claimed, some administrators blame the rise in elderly bed patients in part on the recent extreme heat in the Nebraska area.

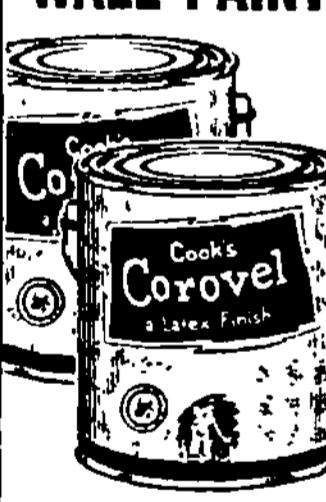

Most administrators believe, however, that an acute bed shortage will develop during the fall and winter months. July and August are traditionally a slack season for hospitals.

The greatest worry confronting administrators at the present, according to the article, is that of inadequate reimbursement for Medicare patients. Some of them believe that the problem is serious enough to financially jeopardize the capabilities of hospitals within the program, the article said.
